REDEFINING THE Warrior

Tantasqua Regional High School

The new and improved Tantasqua is almost complete. The grounds are being landscaped and minor details inside the building are being taken care of. The new face looks great but the spirit inside is still being defined.

REDEFINING THE Warrior

➜ Tantasqua has a great new Culinary Arts program as part of the Technical school. Here we see our young men being domesticated in the kitchen in a Foods class.

← The classes here at Tantasqua are unique. We offer a variety of courses so students can vary their learning experiences. Don't they look happy?

← Tantasqua has finally come up to speed and made it's way into the world of technology. These students are working on the new, state of the art computers.

Opening

↓ The arts and music are very important programs here at Tantasqua. Students are encouraged to explore their interests whether it be in music, art, cooking, electronics, fiber arts or anything we can come up with.

This page marks a new beginning. It is the start of an exciting new era at Tantasqua. It is the opening to a book of new ideas, new faces, new walls and a new spirit. It is the opening of the Tantasqua Regional High School Yearbook. Though this book has been around since Tantasqua began about fifty years ago, this book is and will be a legend all it's own. It is the first book to be produced for the "new" Tantasqua. The book has gone back to it's roots and is once again being called "Tantasquan." It is, however, a modern look at what the school is today and perhaps what it will become in the future. The old school has been torn down leaving Tantasqua with a new home to establish as its own. The walls are freshly painted, the tile is bright and shiny, the lockers are clean and new but the people who make Tantasqua what it is remain and this book will give us all a small look at what Tantasqua is all about.

Thank You!

This year brought a big change to Tantasqua. The new building redefined what it is to be a warrior, but it also brought with it many jobs to be done. One of the largest tasks was moving everything from the old school into the large metropolis that is the new Tantasqua Regional High School.

We, the students, want to thank the individuals who spent countless hours over the summer to move Tantasqua into the new school. Tim Flynn, Bob Collins, Ron Rogers, Butch Rogers, Rick Vilvamore, Mike Pecore, Dan Parent, Sue Gallant and Catherine Rondeau have been an integral part of Tantasqua's excellent janitorial staff. They all went above and beyond the call of duty over the summer by working endless hours including weekends in the sweltering heat to be sure the school could open on August 28th. Crates, boxes, bags, and desks (everything and anything) all had to be moved and put into the correct classrooms. Classrooms had to be set up and many other arrangements had to be made. This was undoubtedly a huge undertaking. It took many hours and a lot of hard work. It was the hard work and dedication of the janitorial staff that made the opening of the new school possible and kept the opening date a reality.

We, the students of Tantasqua, want to say thank you to all who worked over the summer and helped to get the school ready for us. With this, we dedicate this yearbook to you. All that you have done and continue to do for Tantasqua and the students does not go unnoticed.

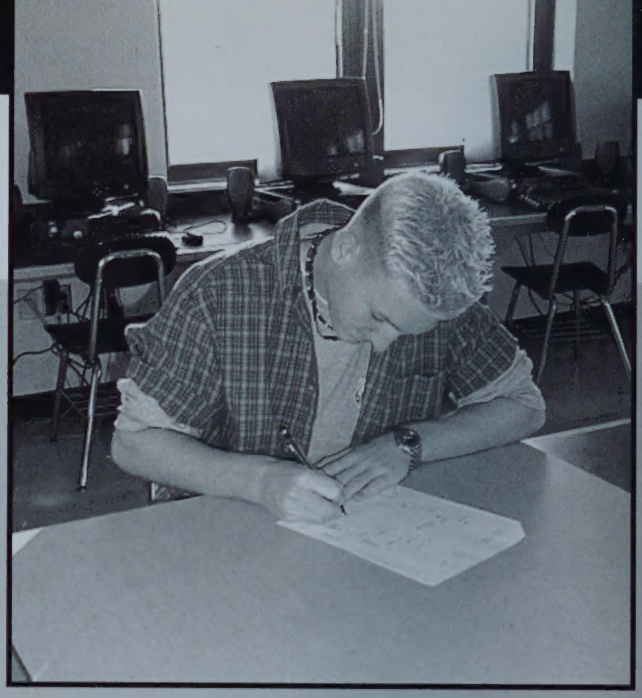
➜ This group of young men explore one of the modules in the Technical Department. Looks like fun huh?



↑ Lunch time is one of the only times students here at Tantasqua have to socialize. Students savor these precious minutes to catch up with their friends.

➜ Relaxing between classes on one of the benches on the fourth floor is a new pastime of these students. The new benches in the school are not only nice to look at but provide a place for a well deserved rest after the 80 step climb to the fourth floor.

← As is the case in any school, academics play the most important role in the course of the day for most students.

Student Life

↓ A brief moment at the lockers is all these two young ladies get as the bell will be ringing momentarily for the next class.

↓ Getting to class a few minutes early is beneficial in some ways. These two young ladies get a chance to hang out in the hall before the class starts.

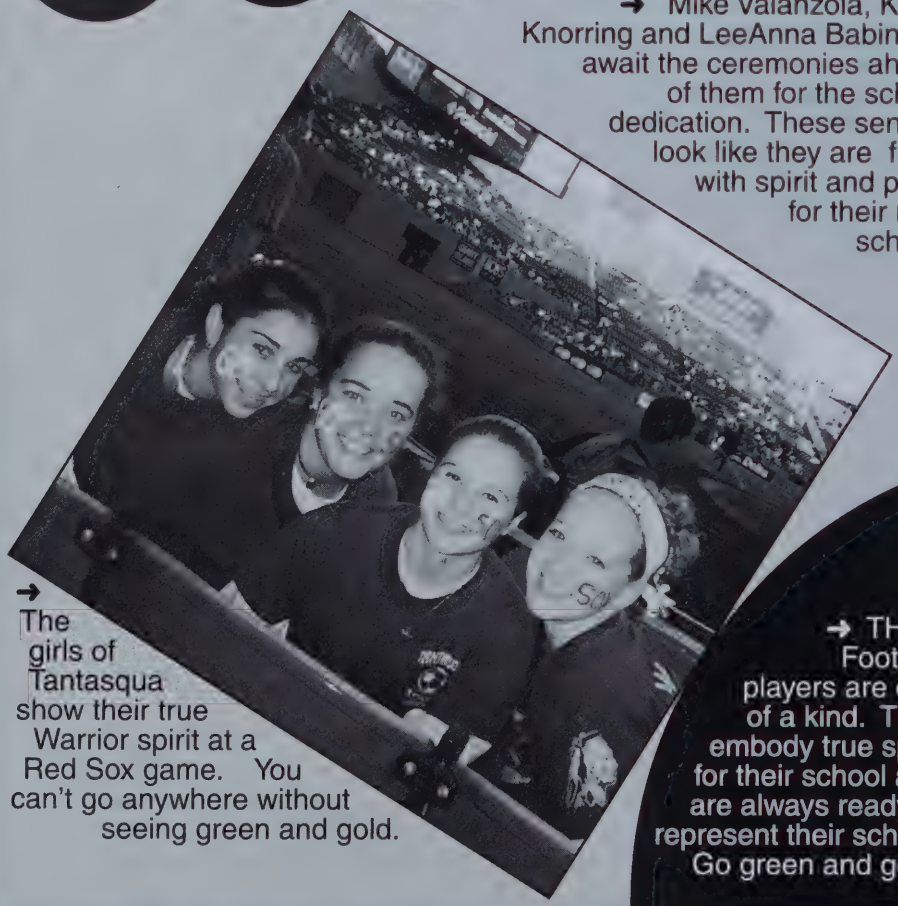
The new school provides new traditions and new experiences but some things never change. Students at Tantasqua continue to be the teenagers that they are. They hang out during lunches, they visit each other at lockers and do everything they possibly can to extend the time they have between classes to get in that last word with a friend. Students at Tantasqua show their school spirit by attending sporting events, and dances, sharing their thoughts about the school and its new environment and participating in school-wide spirit activites. They wear green and gold, t-shirts and bandanas or comfy sweats to school. They'll do whatever it takes to show their spirit for both Tantasqua and for their class. Tantasqua students push themselves to the limit to succeed in their academic endeavors but not at the expense of having a little fun and just being a kid. They deserve it!

Spirit

Spirit is something that Tantasqua prides itself on. Students show their spirit for THS in many ways. Some go to sporting events and cheer, some wear green and gold to school and some even wear it on their cars! No matter how a student chooses to show his or her spirit, it is always there, it's a part of them. With the freshman class finally joining the ranks here and the fact that we have a new home, creating school spirit has become increasingly important. Now more than ever students are showing how much they enjoy their school. Spirit has a new edge to it. It is not reserved just for sporting events. Spirit is shown throughout the halls, during pep rallies and at other events. It's shared by students and faculty alike. We are proud to be warriors! We are proud to be Tantasquans. We are proud of who we are. Along with many other aspects of Tantasqua, the spirit here is everchanging and is also in the process of being redefined.

➜True school spirit begins here, on the fields of Tantasqua.

➜ Mike Valanzola, Kerry Knorring and LeeAnna Babineau await the ceremonies ahead of them for the school dedication. These seniors look like they are filled with spirit and pride for their new school!



➜ The girls of Tantasqua show their true Warrior spirit at a Red Sox game. You can't go anywhere without seeing green and gold.

➜ THS's Football players are one of a kind. They embody true spirit for their school and are always ready to represent their school. Go green and gold!

TA-N . . . T-A-S . . . Q- U-A . . . ALL THE WAY. This is something that you will hear at almost every single one of Tantasqua's sporting events. Tantasqua has some of the best fans around. They are willing to travel miles, stand in the cold and rainy weather so they can show their support for the warriors. This year, not only has the school been re-done, but the fans have as well. They have come back this year, with more spirit and cheer for our teams than ever before. Tantasqua should be thankful for the following they have. The dedication of Tantasqua's fans is truely amazing. The cheerleaders aren't the only ones cheering at the games! You can hear chants coming from the side-lines as well. Yelling and showing their support for the teams is one way the fans help to motivate the players. The die-hard fans of Tantasqua have redefined themselves to better fit with the new surroundings; they have simply become more dedicated than ever. Tantasqua has some crazy fans, and we love them!

INSIDE & OUTSIDE

← The students of Tantasqua are always up for an adventure. These three look like they have had a fun day on the mountain.

Tantasqua students are always ready for a challenge. Whether it be inside the classroom or outside of school at work, Tantasqua students are always ready to step up to anything that is thrown their way. Making the most of any situation is something that every student here at THS is willing and able to do. Having fun is also a vidal part of any situation that is placed before a student from THS. Not only are they able to step up to every challenge that comes their way, but they always have fun in the process. This year more than ever the students of Tantasqua are stepping up to the plate to battle new classes, new teachers and a new school. They are redefining what it means to be a student at Tantasqua and everyone of them is stepping up to the challenge.

Stepping up

➜ Santa's lap was definitely not big enough for this group of boys when they all came running to take a picture with him!

There are many moments in life. Some are just moments, but others define who we are. This year at Tantasqua, each and every moment is a defining one. The students are helping to define what this new school is all about and redefining the warrior we once knew to grow into a new one. Whether it be in a new classroom, a new sports field or a new stage, the students at THS are getting an amazing new experience with the new Tantasqua. Making each moment count is something that the students here are pros at. When kids walked through the doors of THS for the first time, they each brought something with them. Over a million defining moments made up the old school and now a million more will help to shape this new Tantasqua.

The Tantasqua High school building redefined itself this year. It was transformed into a metropolis of classrooms. Now, a bigger, better and more confusing building is holding the many students that come here to learn. The building was a change for students and teachers alike, but now it feels like home. With such a big change behind us and the lost and confused looks behind us, we had to ask the question . . . .

This year we embarked on a new journey. Showing leadership: we the class of 2003 have over come so many obstacles during our senior year. Not only did we say farewell to a structure that held many fond memories and life history, the doors were unlocked to a new and improved constitution, the new Tantasqua Regional High School. The class of 2003 spent over 2 years in a building that the community called home to education for over 50 years; and as we reminisce, our hearts are filled with nostalgia. Our friendships have remained secure and well built. Tantasqua is a reflection of the people, not the building. The student-faculty relationship has stayed the same. Where would Tantasqua be without all the amazing teachers? I know I am not alone when I say, "Thank you"!

It has been a pleasure serving you over this past year. I am reminded of a quote that shows my true appreciation for allowing me the opportunity to serve as your president, "No person can be a great leader unless he takes genuine joy in the successes of those under him". I wish you all the best in your future endeavors. Good luck!

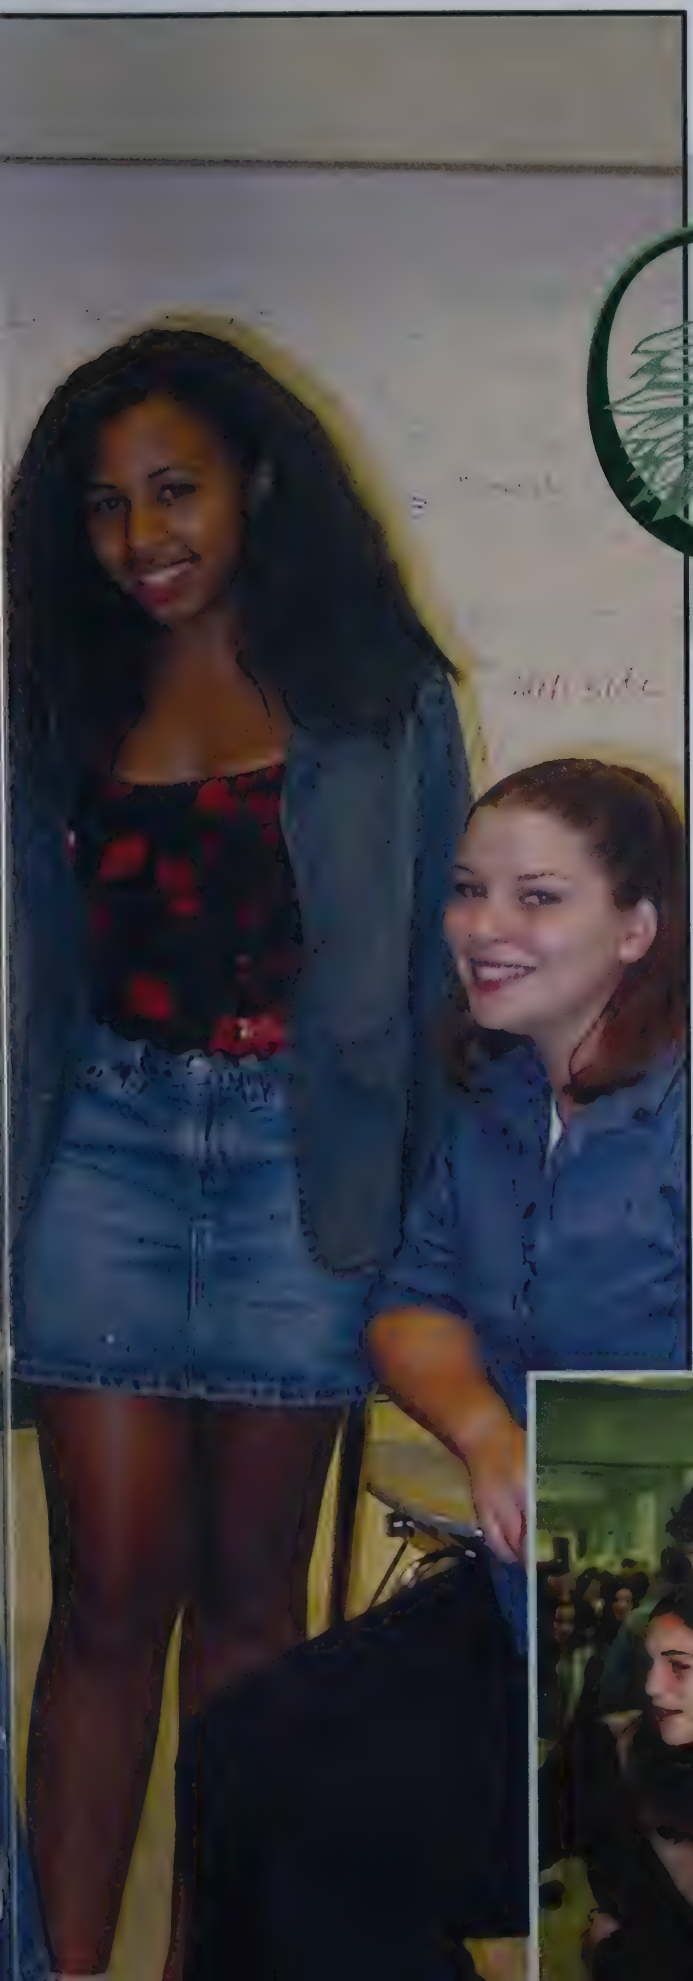
Seniors

Three years ago, the class of 2003 set foot in a new school, a building that saw thousands of students before us. We walked through defined hallways, memories of past students and a school that already knew what a Warrior was. As sophomores, we began to lay the cement and mark our place in Tantasqua's history. Now, two years later, the class of 2003 has set foot in yet another new school, the brand new THS, but this time, we're seniors. We have already left our mark on the old Tantasqua. Now, as we embark on a journey through new hallways, we are redefining ourselves to fit in with our new surroundings. As the first class to graduate from the "new and improved" Tantasqua, we are setting a new standard and redefining the warrior.



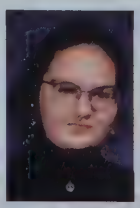
↓ Laura Zajac and Marvin Lowell stop at a locker in the busy hallway. Aren't they the cutest couple at THS?

The Way

→ The seniors have come a long way since seventh grade. Can you tell who is who?

→ Three friends hanging out together outside, awaiting the classes to come.

→ The girls of the Tantasqua marching band pose before a big game.



We Were

In the years before high school the class of 2003 came together and made friendships that will last a lifetime. We have been together now for nearly 6 years. Though 6 years is not a long time, it seems like we've been together forever. Looking back, we can see that when we first came together each one of us represented something new and different. As the years passed, we have all grown together to represent something much bigger. We represent Tantasqua. We are seniors now, and that gives us the job of teaching those below us the true meaning of being a warrior, just as those in the past have done for us. The way we were when we first came together as a class has helped us become who we are today. We have redefined ourselves to fit together with one other, and we have redefined the warrior to fit with our true Tantasqua spirit.

Redefining the Seniors

This year's seniors have shared many memories. The biggest memory of all is moving to the new Tantasqua. Along with 3 other grades, the seniors had to begin a new journey in a new place. We have all adjusted well and have begun to redefine ourselves according to our new environment. We took on the challenge of being on top, and have now set a new standard for the many senior classes to come. The class of 2003 has helped to has shown the others what it's like to be a warrior.

↓ Is that a student? Yes, it's Felicia Stanikmas! Who exactly is she is she supposed to be?

➜ Patricia O'Brien works on a Twill Weaving machine helping students to weave together various pieces of fabric and paper to create yet another incredible work of art.

Faculty

↓ Peter Dobrowolski moonlights on the side serving pizza to last year's graduates.

The faculty here at Tantasqua grew tremendously over the past year with the opening of the new school, and the addition of the ninth grade. The transition to the new building has been a challenge to old and new teachers alike. The quarter mile hike from the parking lot to the fourth floor will be a fond (well, not so fond) memory for many while new facilities and equipment are a favorite of others. Tantasqua has a new face and new walls but the spirit that lives inside and the pride that is portrayed to all comes in great part from the faculty. The task is at hand and the redefining has begun.

➜ Here's a site most teachers probably wouldn't be eager to see any time soon. At the end of last year, teachers had to pack up EVERYTHING to move it to the new building. It was a huge task but the faculty came through with flying colors. The actual move took place over the summer but unpacking went on well into the new school year.

Events

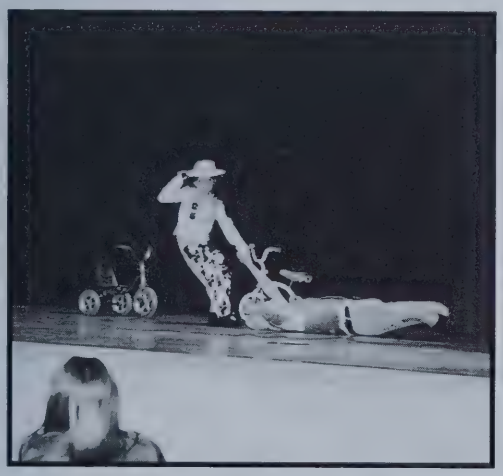
↓ During the prom season, the local police come to the school to demonstrate what happens when people drink and drive.



The prom, Homecoming, Mr. Tantasqua, the school play, winter carnival, pre-prom activities, concerts, shows, etc... These are many of the different events that happen each year at Tantasqua. Some events require that the students be prim and proper and other events expect them to be a bit wild but all in all each event is worth attending. The prom last year was held at Mechanics Hall in Worcester and it proved to be a night worth remembering. This year's homecoming was held at the new school and was a site to be seen. Mr. Tantasqua proved to once again be a success pulling in loads of money for the senior class. Eric Schonholz retained his title in a battle to the finish against some some tough competitors. Seymour had a tough time taming his man-eating plant in Little Shop of Horrors but in the end the plant was the star of the show. Tantasqua puts on some great events. Check them out!

It was a rollicking musical comedy that satires all "B" science fiction and horror movies. It was a show that featured a tragic hero, a heroine who truly needs saving from the clutches of her semi-sadistic dentist boyfriend, a hip Greek chorus of saucy drop-outs, and a very nasty, yet suave, man-eating, authropmorphic, alien plant- "A cross between a venus fly trap and an avocado" named Audrey II. The show's theme is one of true morality. Seymour always wants to do "the right thing," but lost himself in the promise of fame and fortune. Like all tragic heroes, he gets lost and ends up paying dearly. The show reminded us all that we need to be careful out there. It's a dangerous and often seductive world.

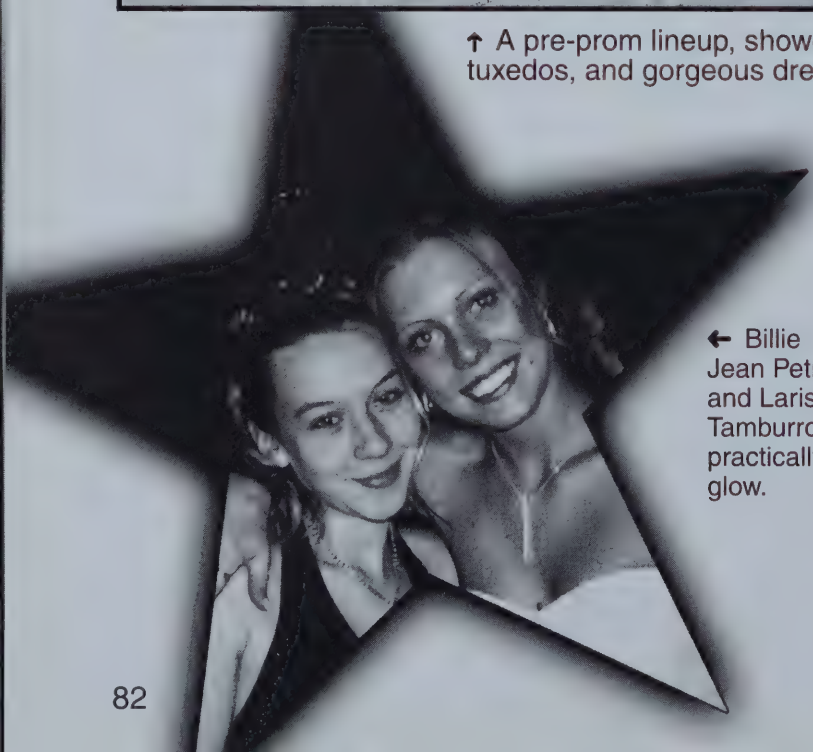
PROM

→ Jenn Miller, Danielle Lemay, Lizz Palmer, and Hannah Depew form a beautiful group.

↑ A pre-prom lineup, showcasing snazzy tuxedos, and gorgeous dresses.



← Billie Jean Petrie and Larissa Tamburro practically glow.

← Prom-goers were overjoyed; "over the moon", some might say.

Mechanics Hall in Worcester set the stage for our Prom, 2002. The prom-goers were polished and sparkled like stars on this dazzling night. Certainly, to become so luminescent takes a lot of work. Before the big event, prom-goers curled, straightened, pinned, clipped, gelled, painted, glittered, brushed, shaved, dressed, zipped, clasped, buttoned, tied... virtually transforming themselves for the occasion. Such a transformation was even more appropriate for this year's prom, as the theme was Masquerade Ball. This shimmering and beautiful night will surely be remembered.

↑ Melanie Pover and Mike Valanzola obviously had a great time... love the tiara!

Hold Onto The Night

↓ This year's Homecoming Court was presented on the make-shift football field at half time during the big game.

THE COURT

↓ Felicia Piccoli and Jay Wassmer give even more proof that they are one of Tantasqua's cutest couples.

↓ You could call this Jess^4! Or you can call it Jess Parker, Jess Streans, Jess Castro and Jess McNutt having a ball at Homecoming.

Tantasqua's 2002 Homecoming event was magical. It was the first dance to be held in the new gym and everything was perfect. The Homecoming committee truly redefined the meaning of the dance this year at Tantasqua, throwing the biggest and best dance THS has ever seen. This years theme was "Hold Onto The Night" and that is what every dance goer did. "Hold Onto The Night" was also the song that the Homecoming King, Queen and the rest of the court danced to. This Years court consisted of Sara Baillargeon, Ashley Blanchet, Joanna Donato, Beth Gionfriddo, Felicia Piccoli, Neal Casaubon, Sean McGrath, Mike Slingerland, Jay Wassmer and John Young. Chris Predella and Kerry Knorring were crowned King and Queen. The night was magical and everything everyone had hoped for.

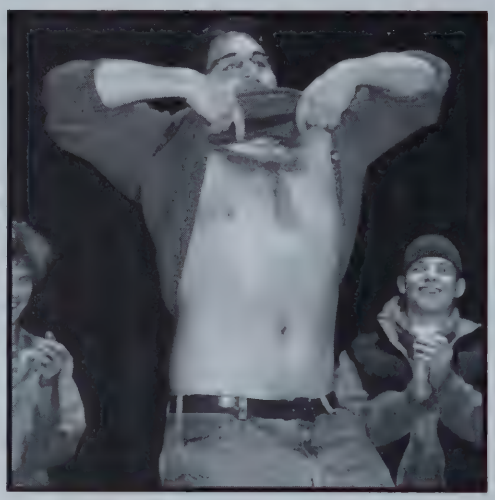
Mr. Tantasqua

And the winner is...

↓ Jon Young recited a beautiful poem about football to the audience for his talent. He may have tried his "shaving" talent on the audience. Nice "T" on the chest there Jon. Talk about spirit!



↓ Evan Moore tries his hardest to come up with a smart and witty answer to his question. Evan, the answer is "blue"... the sky is blue. Evan also put on a great basketball display for the audience for his talent.

→ Babe Predella - is that you? A teary eyed Babe sings "the Kicker" to the audience. I don't think there was a dry eye in the audience after that performance.

↓→ Nate Perkins tries his hardest to be a snake charmer. Unfortunately, even hushing the crowd didn't help his cause. There was no snake to be found. Better luck next time Nate.

↓ Jay Wassmer, the newest member of the THS Cheerleading squad sings a convincing rendition of "I'm Not a Girl." I think we figured that out on our own Jay.

The Mr. Tantasqua contest 2002 - 2003 has come to a close. Eric Schonholz successfully defended the sought after crown with some fancy talking, dancing and costumes. Aside of making women love him, he made the audience burst into laughter when he made his way onto the stage with his escort - the young "Jessie the Cowgirl" who later dragged him off by one hand. The night was a huge success with fifteen contestants - more than the contest has ever had before. While most acts were of the more comical nature, some were serious and did in fact show that the young men of Tantasqua do have some talent. The swimsuit competition needed a little work. Our young men could use a trip to American Eagle for a nice pair of "swim trunks" instead of continuing to borrow bathing suits from their girlfriends - they just don't seem to fit as well. Overall the show was a lot of fun and next year's Mr. Tantasqua has a difficult act to follow. Good Luck!

↑ Dan Lindgren (AKA The Little Mermaid) shows his best pose during the swimsuit competition. Have you been working out Dan?

↑ Adam Carroll, sporting a great plaid shirt, some wonderful suspenders and head gear (do they still make that?") listens as Erik Rogalski as he asks him a question in the question round.

← "And finally, I'd like to thank my hair stylist... without her, I wouldn't look this fine." Eric Schonholz defends his title as Mr. Tantasqua in a fight to the end. He proved himself to the judges once again as he strut his stuff on stage. Nice Job Eric.

← Foods classes are among the most popular for students here at Tantasqua. Who wouldn't want to spend a block everyday cooking and eating?

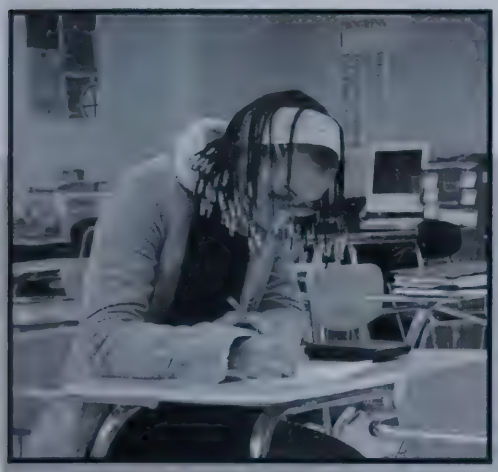
↓ A little jam session between classes?

↓ Seth Landry poses for a lovely side profile shot.



← Ashley Shoum shows off her braids after a brief vacation to the Dominican Republic. Here she stresses over another fun math test.

Juniors

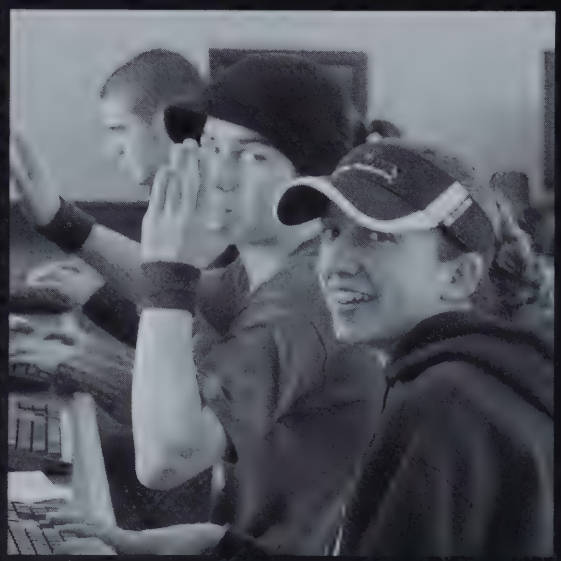
The junior class here at Tantasqua is working hard to make its way into the position as the seniors in the upcoming year. Having spent their sophomore year at the old school, the juniors have reason to have an appreciation for all the new amenities here in the new building. They are the last graduating class here that actually spent time in the old building. The two classes behind them didn't have the opportunity of attending the old Tantasqua. With these exeriences behind them, the junior class is leading the way in the old traditions of tantasqua. They need to be the class to uphold the old traditions in the new building as they are the last class to have lived through them. Juniors, it's up to you. You are the leaders of tomorrow and will soon enough take your place as the leaders of the school. Stand tall, make yourselves known and leave your mark here as the class that defined the new school.



➜ I swear - if you come near me, I'll karate chop you! Jared Bolduc demonstrates self-defense against his computer. Bridget Ward is lucky enough to be sitting beside him and can learn his fabulous techniques.

← Jill Boone, Marlie Liro, Ashley Duby and Alyssa Van Dolson are in showing their "true colors!"

↓ Lunch, a time of socializing, eating, crowds and fun.

Sophomore year is one of transition for most students. It is a year of anticipation. Though not freshmen, sophomores are still not considered "upper-classmen." They have another year to go before they earn that title. Sophomore year is a year of hard work and preparation for the upcoming years. Planning and fundraising begins for their junior/senior prom, driving lessons begin for many and schoolwork tends to pile up quickly. This year's sophomore class is in the same boat as the freshmen class. They never attended the old school and are new to the surroundings, the faculty and the expectations. This year will be a defining year for the sophomores as they work toward their last two years here. By the time they are seniors, they will have had two full years to build their spirit, start new traditions, and make Tantasqua into something to be proud of.

🡐 It seems like everyone is looking to be part of a band these days. These freshmen are starting early - perhaps their talents will take them far.

Chris Fasser gives his reaction to writing another program in his computer programming class. What enthusiasm!

🡓 Study, study, study... that's what the next four years are going to be like for these freshmen.

Freshmen

↓ Groupwork is a popular trend in many classes. The block schedule seems to lend itself to it well.

↓ Adam Hammare "gets down" at the dance.

How can you spot a freshman in the hallway? Look for the person who looks like he/she is about 10 years old. Compared to the seniors, that's just what they look like. It has been a long time since Tantasqua has housed a freshman class but they're back! Freshman English, Algebra I, and all of the other freshman courses are brimming with the laughter and hard work that comes with being a freshman. With four years ahead of them at Tantasqua, the freshman class really has the task of defining this school. They will be the class the new freshmen next year look up to and will lead the way as the most experienced class in the new school by the time they are seniors. It's up to you - the class of 2006 to show the incoming classes what Tantasqua is all about. You will set the standard for the years to come. Make it a standard to be proud of as it has been in the past. Lead the way!

2006 2006

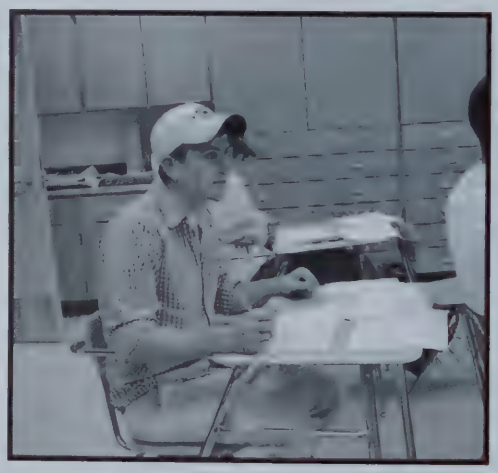
→ Ali Kanter, Christina Podles and Amanda Marble look ravishing!

← Bryce Mahan is working diligently on that jewelery. Is that going to be a gift for someone?

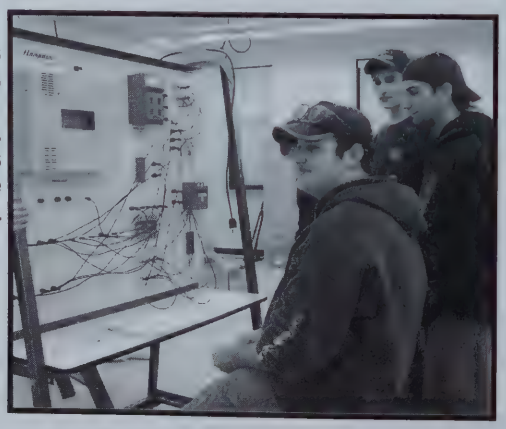
➜ Fiber Optics and Photonics is a new field that students may explore here at Tantasqua. Dr. Drexhage has plenty of experience and lots to share with these eager young minds.

➜ Allied Health is a favorite among students wishing to enter a field in the medical industry. The students in Allied Health have the opportunity to spend part of their days at a local hospital working along side nurses. What a great experience!

➜ The Technology classes are not ALL hands on. There is time spent at the desks with a pencil and paper working on the theoretical part of each trade.



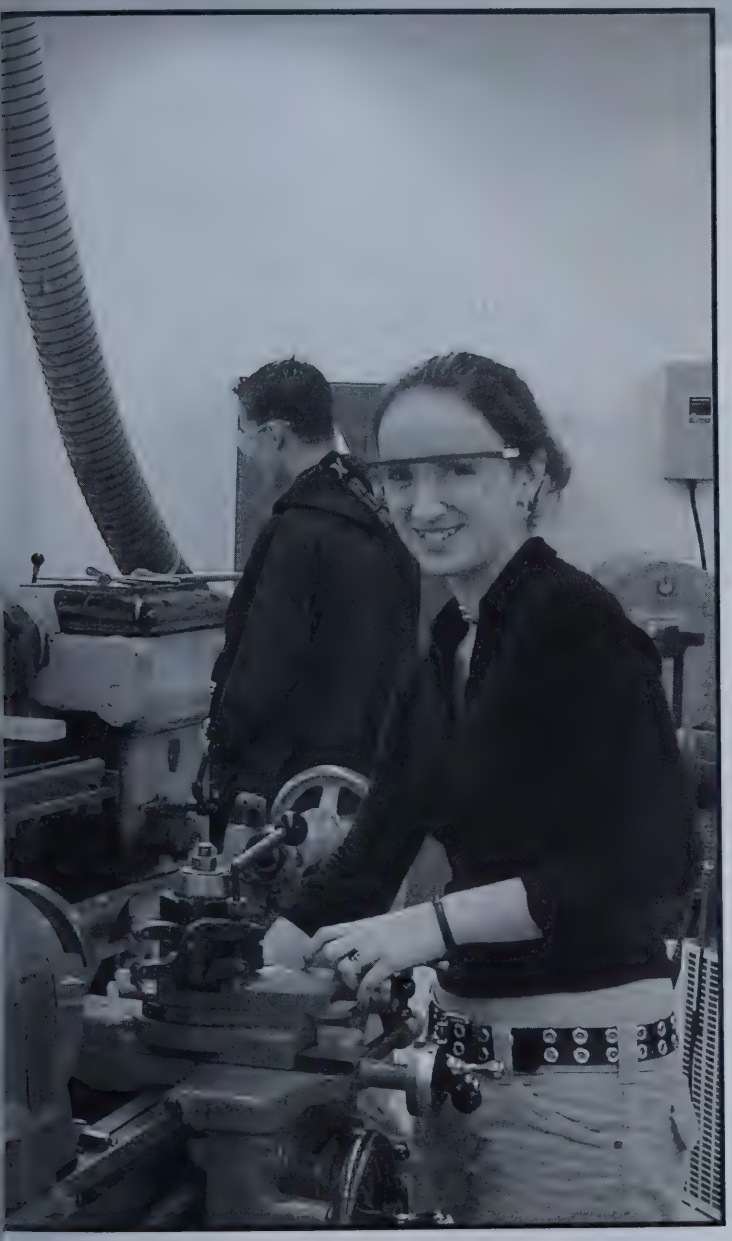
➜ The Tantasqua Electrical shop is equipped with various structures and switchboards to simulate what an electrician may encounter out in the field. It's these types of experiences that our students will utilize later on in life.



← Have you ever wondered how electricians bend the tubing they use to run wires through? If so, head on down to the Electrical Shop. They'll be happy to show you how it's done.

↓ Machine Shop is a popular choice among many students. Local machine shops allow students to job shadow and also observe the trade in a one-on-one setting.

Technical



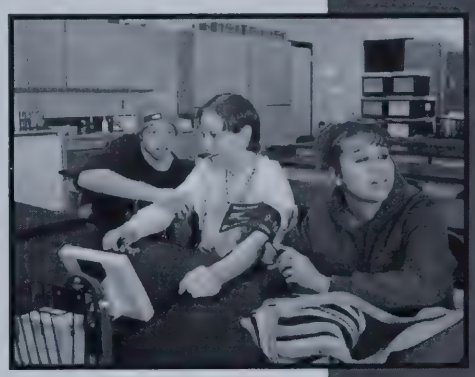
The Tantasqua Technical division spares no expense when it comes to making sure it is equipped with the latest technology and state of the art equipment to help its students learn the skills they need to succeed in the workforce. The Technical program offers a variety of disciplines to students at Tantasqua including Electrical, Carpentry, Machine Shop, Drafting, Allied Health, Computer Technology, and for the first time this year a new Photonics program and also Culinary Arts. With so many fields to choose from, the Tantasqua Technical school has become a major attraction to students from other communities seeking a trade or looking for valuable skills they can only receive in a program such as ours. Many of our students go straight out into the workforce with the skills they have learned however, more and more are choosing to continue their education at the college level. Either way, the Tantasqua Technical program will prepare students for anything they choose to do.

A LIFE HEALTH

Allied health is a course that lasts throughout a students' high school career. This course registers students as Nursing Assistants and they become certified in CPR and in First Aid by the American Red Cross. The students learn many different procedures and tactics to prepare for the roads ahead in the health care field. Students who stay in the Allied Health program until their senior year have the opportunity to go to health care facilities and work there for two blocks during the day. This program is a great way to help students in determining whether or not they want to pursue a career in the health field. The students have a great time and take advantage of the terrific learning experience.

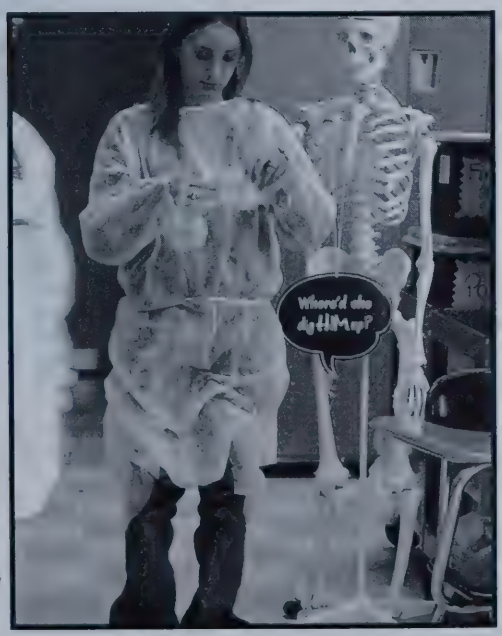
← Kara Wassmer practices her bedside caring with this mannequin. I suppose there's no worry in making a mistake with them.

← Mrs. Gongalves demonstrates the technique of finding a blood pressure on a student. Does the expression on her face look good or bad? Better lay off the salt!



← This is certainly a crew! Working on blood pressure readings. You are supposed to use the cuff - not your hands to find a person's blood pressure!

← Wow - this looks like a real hospital room. It's got sick people and all. Allied Health students have manequins to practice techniques and care on.



← Here a student is showing off the new uniforms for the Allied health program. With a uniform like this, they're bound to be protected from diseases.

→ Is that a new student behind her?

↑ What a great looking structure. It's apparent from this picture that our Carpentry students really learn how to build things. Nice job!

↑ It's all about the power tools.

↑ Carpentry students put this great addition onto a house in the community. Another job well done.

"You cannot dream yourself into a character; you must hammer and forge yourself one."
- James A. Froude

← Richie Wallace, Jamie Easton, Evan Randall & Zach Adriance show off the handicapped access ramp they built. Nice job boys!

CARPENTRY

As a student in Tantasqua's high school carpentry department, I have come across many xperiences in the program. I have earned in my two years many things rom our teacher, the most important eing how to work together as a team. ly classmates, Mr. Seguin and myself ave been working together so long hat we have formed our own family. Vhen we have a job to be done, we ttack it as a group and we finish it s a group. My senior class is now vorking on a two stall garage that is 24' y 26' with an attached breezeway that s 12' by 18'. We have been on this job or about four months working through now and cold temperatures but we live or that because that's what separates is from our peers at school. We like to e known for what we do in carpentry. Ve stand behind what we do whether t is saving an elderly couple two housand dollars or a handicap ccess ramp to uilding a forty-housand dollar addition or o helping kids and teachers make a simple cut in the shop. We love what we do and take oride in our craftsmanship.

~ Zach Adriance

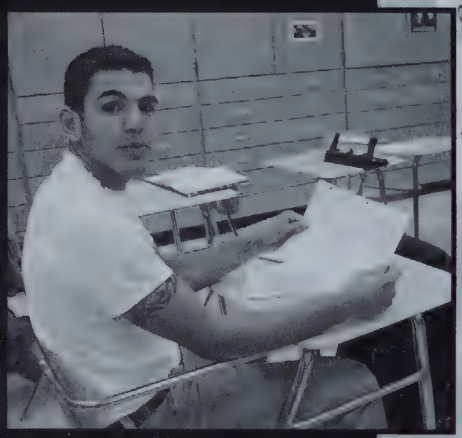
← Mr. Bracken takes time to show John Little how to work those wires.

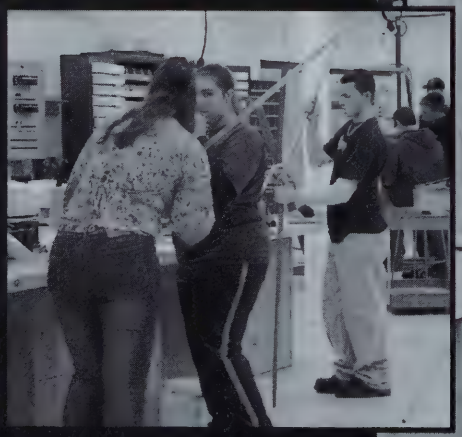
← Mike Slingerland shows us his work. Being in the electrical department is hard work and requires pencil and paper as well as hands on skills.

← Andrew Milner is working on one of the stages in the electrical department. As a senior, Andy knows just what to do and can show the others who are new to the field.

← These two young ladies work on bending pipes for wires to pass through.

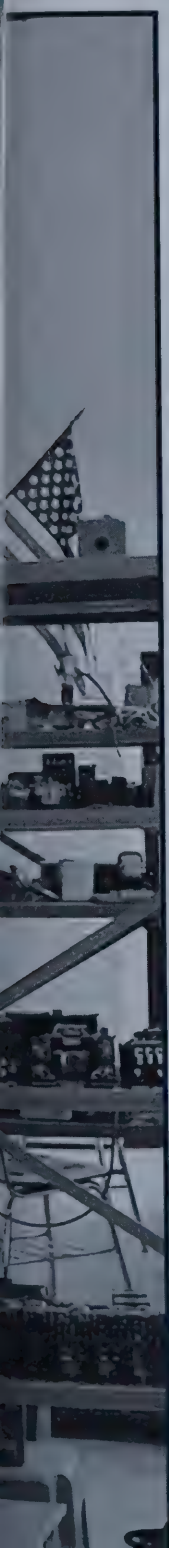
↓ Brian Chamberland workes at a station on various outlets and switches. It must take a lot of training to understand what all those wires are for.





ELECTRICAL

Ever since Thomas Edison invented the light bulb, electricity has been a commodity that our civilization can't seem to live without. Imagine what it must have been like over one hundred ears ago when electricity was not commonplace. People worked, te and lived by candlelight. Imagine having to heat your water over a re for bathing. Electricity has made one of the largest impacts on the uality of living. Because of this, electricians will always be needed. he electrical department at Tantasqua gives students the opportunity gain valuable skills in the field so that they may either continue their ducation or become an apprentice to an electrician upon gradua- on. The program is split into two years. In the first year, the electrical student spends his or her time in electrical classes and the rest in academic classes. By the senior year, these students are either working on-site or in class on electrical projects for seventy-five percent of their day. Spending this much time gives the students the skills they need to continue in the field.



← Crystal Campbell shows off her mad pipe bending skills. Electricians use the tubing to protect the wires from outside sources. Bending pipes is necessary at times to get around fixed objects.

MACHINE SHOP

Nadine Delisle looks a bit frustrated working on the computer. Students in machine shop are taught to program the computer to create various figures on the lathe.

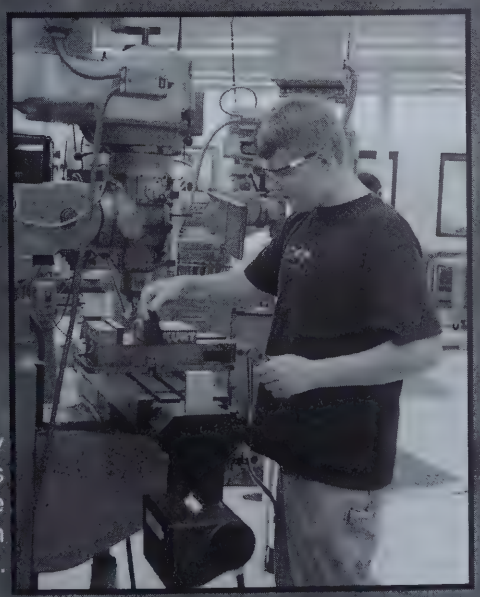
Tantasqua's machine shop is a great place for students to learn the in's and out's of operating sophisticated machinery. Along with operating the machines themselves, students must complete rigorous coursework as well. The skills gained through these experiences are both unique and valuable making these students a valuable resource to the community. Local machine shops have offered students in our program oportunities to enter the workplace for job shadowing and internships. Between the experiences inside the classroom and outside in the workforce, our Machine Shop students will gain the skills they will need to make their way in the industry.

← John examines the machine as it works. The new facilities in the Machine Shop make it easier to keep safety a number one priority.

← Machine shop takes both precision and patience along with a little muscle.

← Glen Lowell appears to be taking a break from his work. Working with these machines can be a very tiring job.

← These two young ladies work together to complete a project. Working as a team is a very important part of what is learned in the shop.



→ Safety precautions are of extreme importance in Machine Shop.

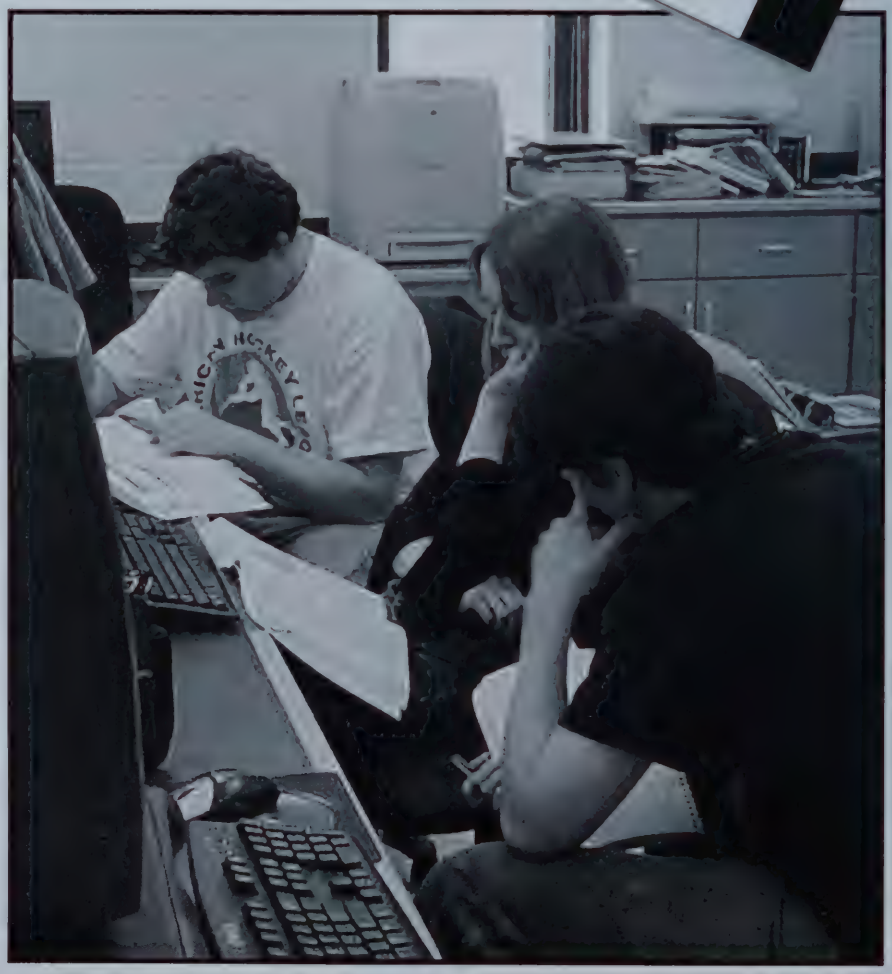
Computer technology

"Any sufficiently advanced technology is indistinguishable from magic."
- Arthur C. Clarke

Sorcerers have their magic wands - the computer technology department has its PCs. The computer technology students work their magic whether it is training for the MOUS (Microsoft Office User Specialist) and A+PC Technician certifications, upgrading and configuring PCs, troubleshooting and maintaining PC and peripherals, networking or creating web pages.

The students have a successful printer cartridge and cell phone recycling program, which they are ranked 77 out of 26,000 participants. They provide tech support for some of the district's elementary schools and have created a community service project to upgrade donated computers and redistribute them to families without computers in the community.

The 2003 computer technology graduates will be the fourth group to graduate from this program. The seniors will leave with enough experience and knowledge to successfully further their educations or find numerous related jobs in the IT field.



➜ Working with computers is not all hands-on. There is a lot of reading and understanding that must be done before the equipment is opened.

his group works on the nderstanding what all the parts do imperative to fixing computers.

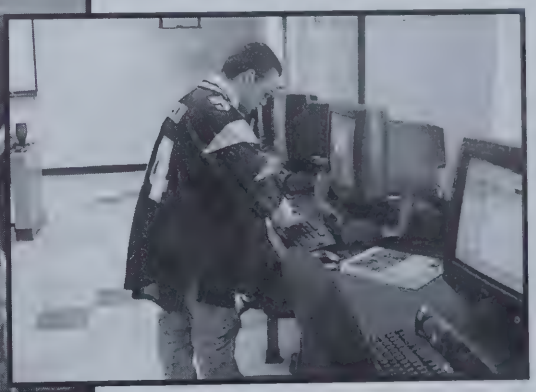
↑↑↓↓ Making it through the computer technology program requires a lot of discipline and patience. Computers can be tempermental and downright incooperative at times. The students in the Computer Technology program know what it takes to succed and work hard to do their best.



↓ Allen Skowyra works diligently on a project he has been working on for weeks. With the end of the semester nearing, crunch time is arriving.

↓ Evan Bomba concentrates as he works. Using CAD isn't as easy as it may appear to be.

↓ Rebecca Gorsky is finishing up her snowman project. I wonder if the carpentry or machine shop will be building that after she's done designing it.

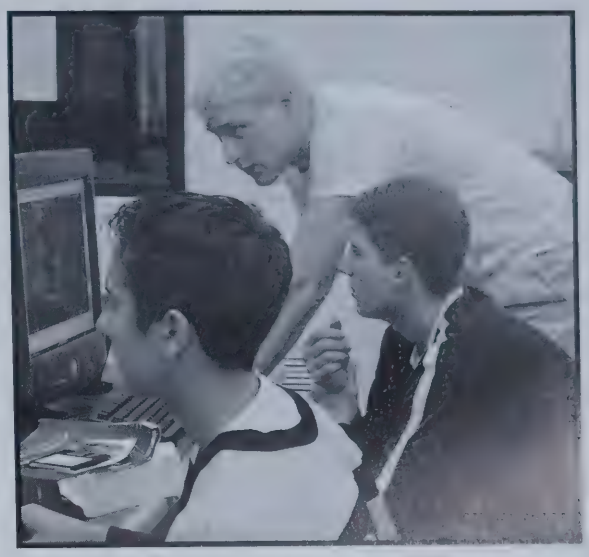
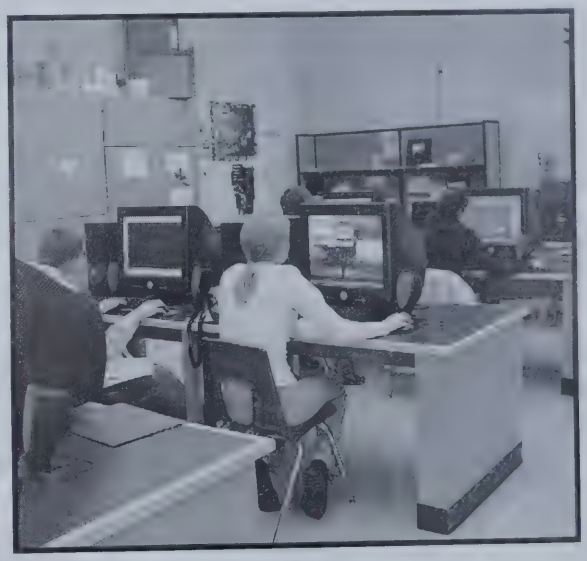
DRAFTING

The drafting program at Tantasqua has come a long way over the years. Prior to the computer and working in a program called CAD, drafting was done with paper and pencil as well as some pretty cool tools like a t-square and various french curves. All designs were done by hand and precision was a tedious process. In today's world of drafting with the age of technology at hand, drafting has taken on a whole new look. Instead of a lab filled with drafting tables and t-squares, it is now a computer lab. CAD has made the work of conceptual design much easier and much more efficient. It gives our students a real-world look at what designers and engineers are working with in the industry today. Students who take drafting will possess highly sought-after skills making them a valuable asset to the technical program.



↑ Senior Mike Woods helps out an underclassman with a problem in the program. Isn't he a nice guy?!

↓ Drafting isn't what it used to be - all pencil and paper. Computers and CAD now dominate the drafting world.



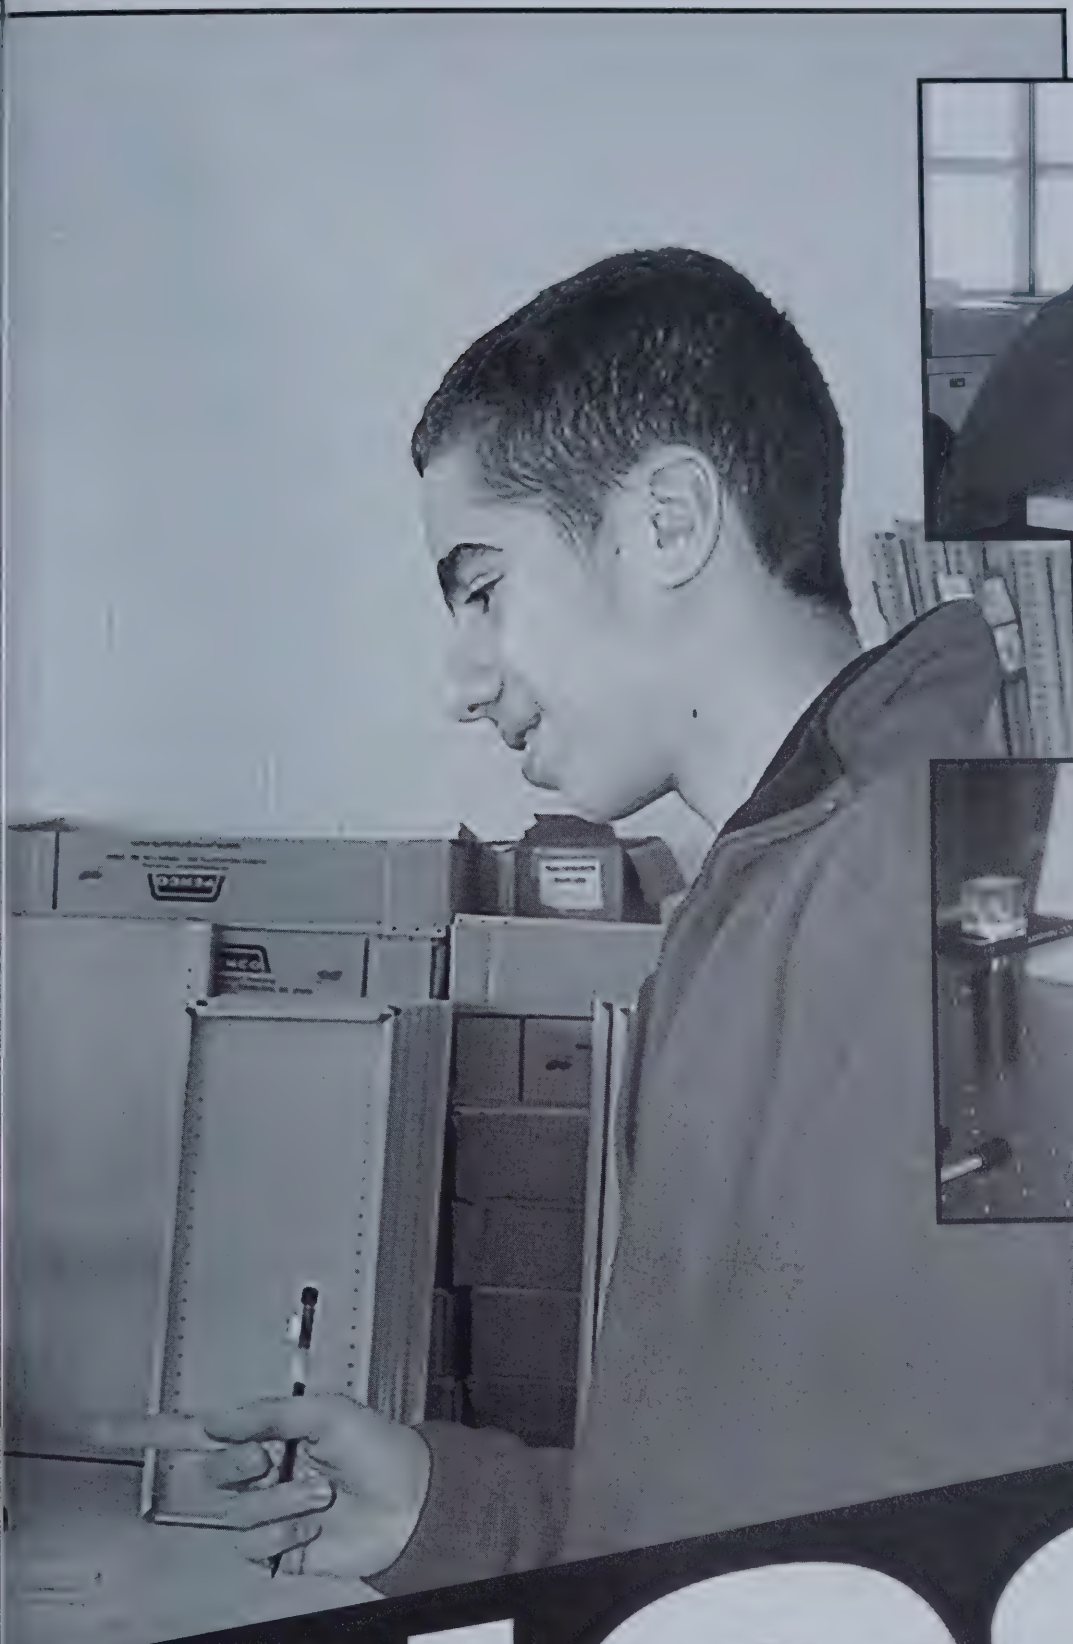
➜ This group of young men work with some sophisticated looking equipment. Be careful with that stuff!

➜ Jeff Bachand seems right at home with this stuff. He really looks as if he knows just what he's doing.

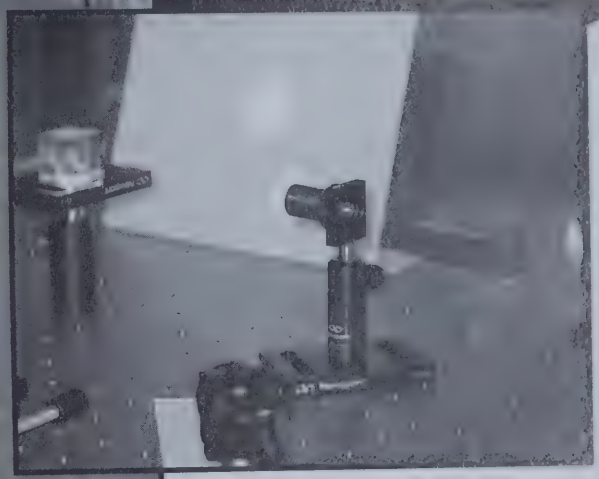
➜ Cameron Schapp works on a device of sorts. Working with light and lasers is very interesting and difficult.

The Photonics course of Introduction to Light and Lasers involves the understanding of light and its properties, the principles of laser operations and how lasers are used today in the medical and industrial fields. After the basic understanding of how the laser works, the class involves labs that use the laser to find out things such as the diameter of a human hair and how lasers are used in barcode scanning. A large part of the class is also spent creating holograms with the laser. This program is new to Tantasqua but is already showing much promise for growth and expansion. With lasers, light and fiber optics being rapidly growing fields in the world, the need for skills in such a field will continue to grow. Students leaving the photonics program here at Tantasqua will posess knowledge and skills that are not generally found in a graduating senior. They will be leaps ahead of their peers from other schools as they make their way into a college or university or even out into the workforce. These are skills that are not easily come upon and will be valued highly in the years to come.

PHOTONICS PHOTONICS PHOT



↑ Making holograms using lasers is just one of the things these students get to work on in Photonics.



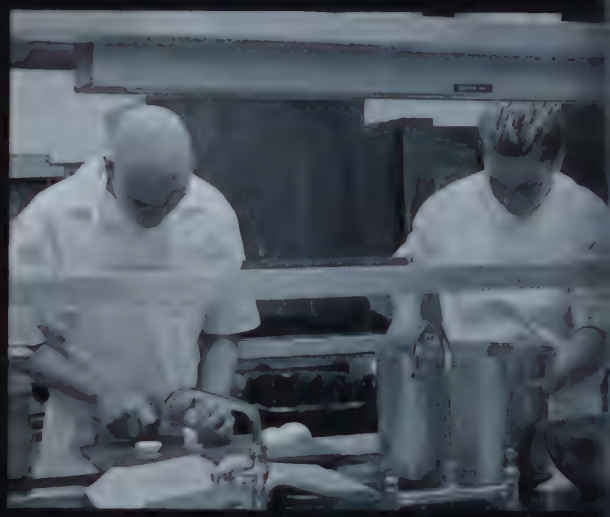
↑ Here we can see an acutal laser in action. Pretty cool stuff!

ONICS

The Culinary Arts program is now up and running in the Technical department at Tantasqua. Along with the new program comes a new cafe. The Cornerstone Cafe opened it's doors to both the faculty and staff at Tantasqua and to the public early this year. With a menu that varies from salads and sandwiches to salmon and roasted turkey, the turnout has been fenominal. The cafe has become a popular gathering place for teachers and members of the outside community. Students in the culinary arts program are learning not only to prepare the food they serve, but how to run a small restaurant. They plan the meals, prepare the food, wait on customers, clear tables, and clean the kitchen. The experiences they are gaining are invaluable in the field of culinary arts. Students in the program are learning to cook and also learning the importance of presentation. They are the students of today and the chefs of tomorrow.

➜ Keeping things sanitized is always a top priority in the kitchen.

➜ A little of this, a little of that, a pinch of this and a pinch of that. Voila! A salad is born!



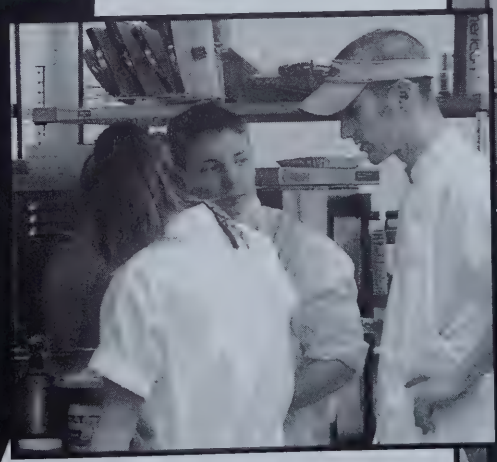
➜ Want to see a grown man cry - give him a few onions to chop. These two look like they're gourmet chefs.

Culinary

← Looking like professional wait staff, our Culinary Arts students serve lunches to faculty, staff and outside members of the community on occasion. These luncheons are always a huge success.

↓← Stir the gravy. We don't want any lumps in it now.

↓ This device looks a bit intimidating. What does it do? Is that a giant can opener to open the giant cans they use in culinary arts?



➜ The handchimes have become a very popular musical instrument at Tantasqua. The unique thing about the hand chimes is that they cannot be played individually. They require a group.

← The Tantasqua marching band leads the way at all home football games. They can also be seen at various concerts throughout the year at the school.

The Tantasqua color guard poses for a snapshot. This group does a fantastic job of waving the flags and moving in sequence with each other. It is a feat not easily done. Nice job!

← A member of the Tantasqua band plays at a concert at the school. Concerts are very popular among the public and are well attended.

Activities

The Tantasqua show choir uts on a smashing show for e audience. Not only do ey sing, but they dance as ell. What talent!

↓ The Tantasqua chorus and choraleers sound absolutely amazing! Here they sing for a crowd of people in the auditorium.

Tantasqua is well known for its many clubs, organizations and activities which it sponsors. Students at Tantasqua have ample opportunity to become involved in the everyday and extra-curricular activities at the school by simply joining one of our many clubs. The Tantasqua student council is responsible for most of the school's activites, dances, contests, and fun. The school bands, chorus, singers etc., put on great shows for the students and parents. If you're not into singing or playing an instrument, perhaps the mountain biking club, the hockey club or the fitness club is for you. For those students who are into academics, we have the math club, spanish club and business club. The school sponsors enough clubs and activities to meet the interest of most of the students at Tantasqua. To join, all you have to do is show up. We have an open door policy.

➜ The Tantasqua Cross Country teams have had to make some adjustments becuause of the new school and the ongoing construction. Meets had to be held at Wells State Park instead of at the school. But, like any obstacle given to a THS team, they overcame it and continued to triumph.

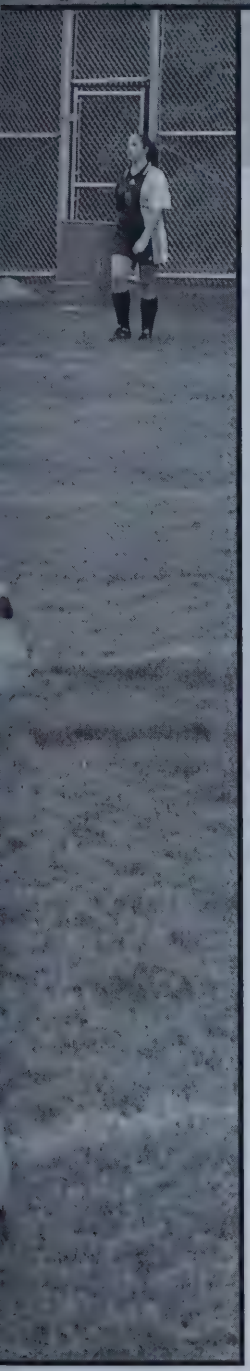
← The Tantasqua football team struggled this year but despite the struggle, they continued as a unified team. They finally got to play on their new field this year.

↓ The Tantasqua golf team continues to make itself known on the links.

↓ The Tantasqua spring track teams have always made the school proud. Whether it's an individual meet or a decathalon, THS always comes out near the top of the pack.

← Field Hockey continues to be a favorite fall sport among many of the Tantasqua females.

Sports



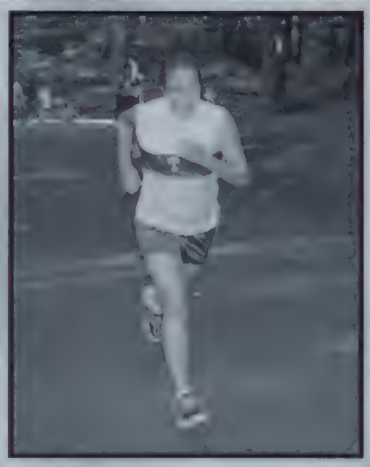
↓ With sports comes injuries but Tantasqua's coaches are trained to deal with whatever our athletes happen to throw their way.

↓ Tantasqua softball and baseball teams await new fields in the upcoming season. It will be well worth the wait.

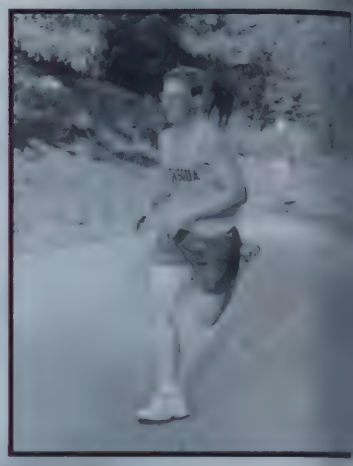
Tantasqua sports have grown tremendoulsy this year. With the new school and the arrival of the freshman class we have gained all of the freshman sports teams and a new swimming/diving team. Our new facilities have enabled us to offer more in the line of sports to our students and it appears as if it is definitely being taken advantage of. The past year proved to be a trying one in which all of our fall and spring teams were not able to play at the school due to the ongoing construction. This year has been a diffenrent story. With a new football field, new soccer field, new field house, new indoor track, new outdoor track, new softball and baseball fields being created, new tennis courts and also, a pool, Tantasqua is ready to take on the competition. Our teams are proud of the new facilities and eager to make their mark in Tantasqua's history. Warrior sports continue to stand strong.

← The boys' cross country team acts as a unified entity as they run. Running as a team helps keep everyone together and pushes them all to do the best that they can. All we need is a little motivation.

↓ Kristin Wood upholds the Wood Legacy by pushing herself to the limit for her team. Three miles in and she hasn't even broken a sweat yet.



↓ Mark Glennon has a great pace going here as he finishes his second mile. You're half way there Mark - keep it up!



GIRLS' TEAM

Row 2: Kristen Wood, Katie Butler, Krystin Gavin, Megan Conners, Amanda Johnson, Emma Rearick

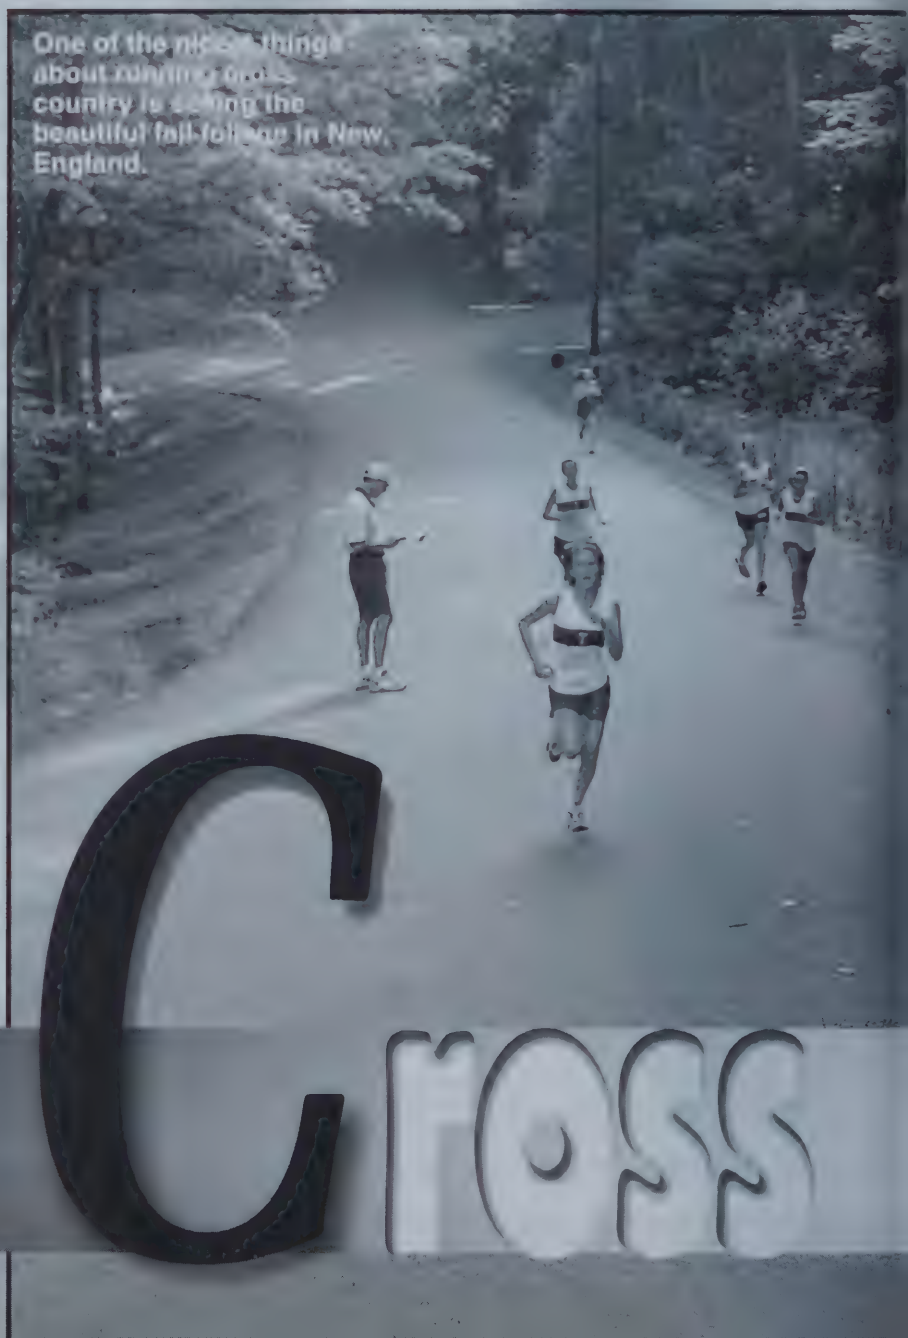
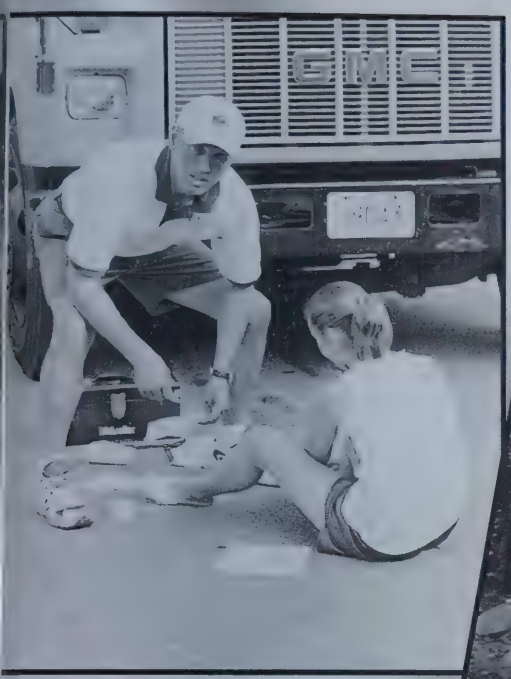
BOYS' TEAM

Row 1 (L to R): Coach Foley, Mark Glennon, Brandon Knox, Jeff Bachand, Tim Hayes, Ryan Stevens
Row 2: Charley Curnow, Brian Barnes, Andre Beriau, Ben Rearick, Ben Kittel
Row 3: Eric Lombardi, Pat Shine, Chris Fasser, Arthur Pote, Nathan Herrera



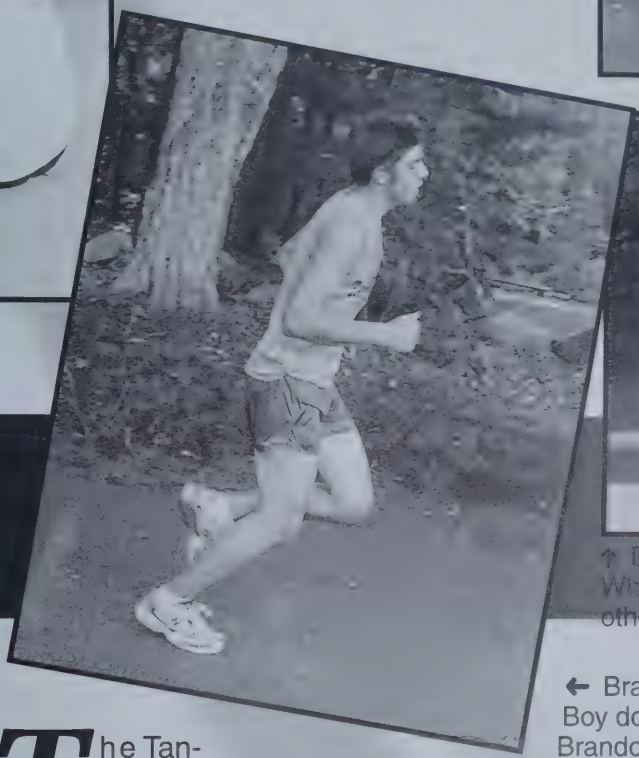
One of the nicest things about running cross country is seeing the beautiful fall foliage in New England.

Cross



← Coach McGuiness tends to an injury. Foot, ankle and shin injuries are common among runners and he needs to be prepared at all times to deal with such things.

→ Jeff Bachand continues with his pace as he gets ready to make his move and pull away from the opposition.



↑ Emma Rearick, Joanna Donato and Jen White all run together to motivate each other and keep everyone moving.

← Brandon Knox is all alone in front. Boy does he look tired. You can make it Brandon... keep going!

Country

The Tantasqua boys' cross country season, captained by Jeff Bachand and Brandon Knox ran in with a 7-4 record. Starting the season with only five runners, the team was built on a freshman and sophomore effort, with four of the top seven varsity runners joining the team for the first time. The major contributors of the team were Jeff Bachand, finishing first in 8 of 11 races and Brandon Knox and Ryan Stevens consistently vying for second place. Our first year athletes have a great showing as well as the veterans.

For the fourth consecutive year, captains Niki Ryder and Joanna Donato led the girls' cross country team to capture the SWCL - West championship. The girls finished with a record of 9-4, remaining undefeated in the league. The girls worked harder than ever at 7:30am practices and numerous practices in the rain. This sport is definitely one of the hardest but with the amazing talent returning next year, coach McGuiness is hoping for his fifth SWCL - West championship.

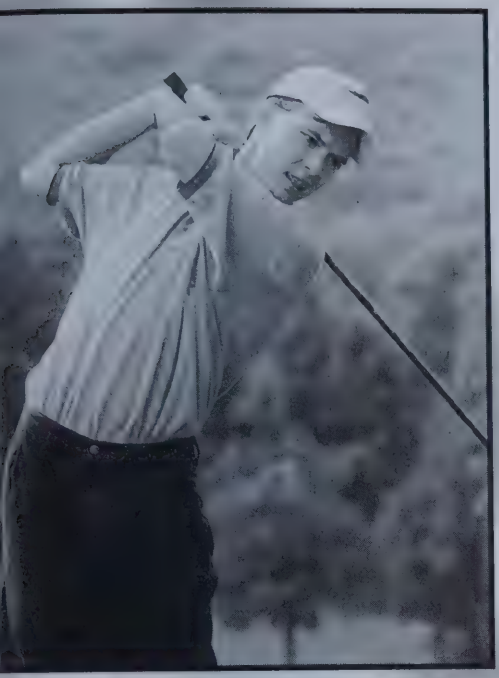
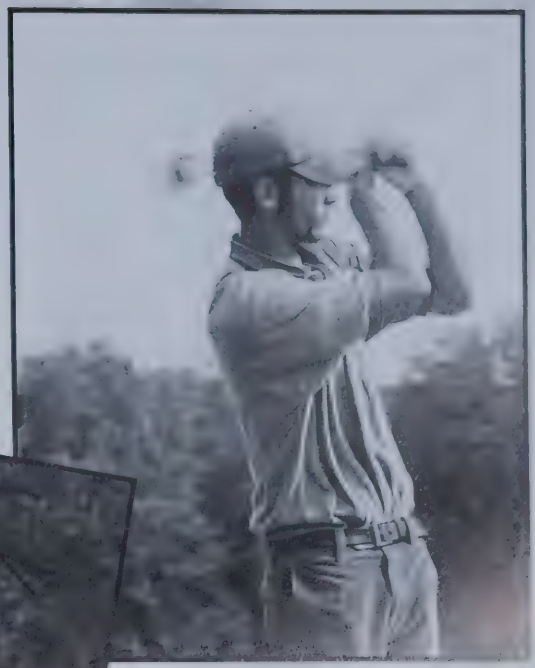
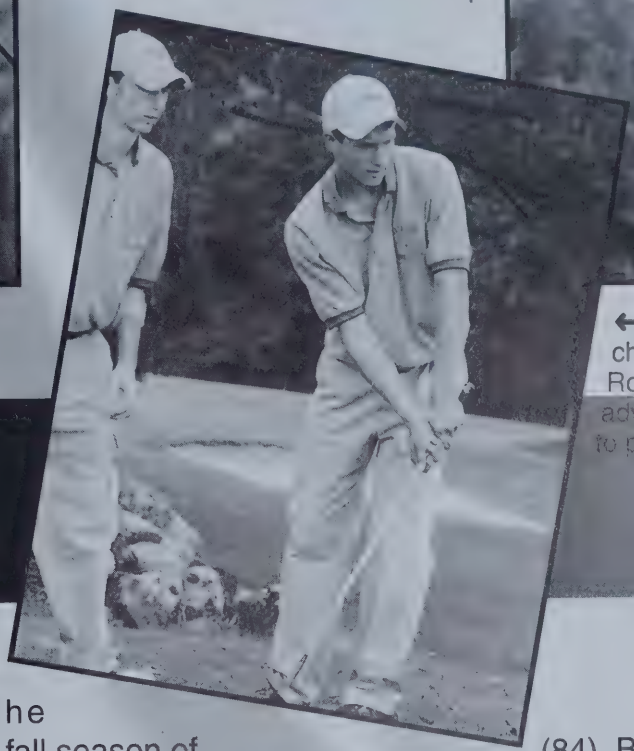
Row 1 (L to R): Ben Gardner, Lizzy Messenger, Kyle Twarowski, Pat Calkins, Stephen Pointowski
Row 2: Coach Keenan, Doug Churchill, Erik Rogalski, Mike Woods, Nick Roth, Andrew Kent



← Steve Pointowski tees off on the third hold. Notice the concentration and form in that swing. Looks like a Tiger Woods in the making.

→ Doug Churchill sends the ball soaring into the air and onto the fairway. Just a couple more swings and it will be in the cup.





← Ben Gardner readies himself to chip the ball onto the green. Erik Rogalski looks on and offers his advice as to where Ben should try to place the ball.

Golf

The fall season of 2002 was a lot of fun but very frustrating. The season seemed to be a rebuilding one. Last year we lost five out of our six starters. This year's team was a much younger one. The team had one representative in the district tournament, Ben Gardner. In the SWCL tournament, our team had a strong showing. We finished in a tie for third place behind strong showings from Pat Calkins (82), Erik Rogalski (84), Ben Gardner (92) and Doug Churchill (93). Some other notable seniors from the past season are Jay Wassmer and Mike Woods. Next season should prove to be more successful than this year. The team will look to Steve Pointowski, Ben Gardner, Andrew Kent and Miss Lizzi Messenger to get Tantasqua golf back on track. I would like to thank coach Keenan for sticking with the team all year. Record: 7-11-1

~ Erik Rogalski

→ Todd Adams, Kris Johnson and Chris Kennedy watch from the sidelines as their team works its way to another victory.

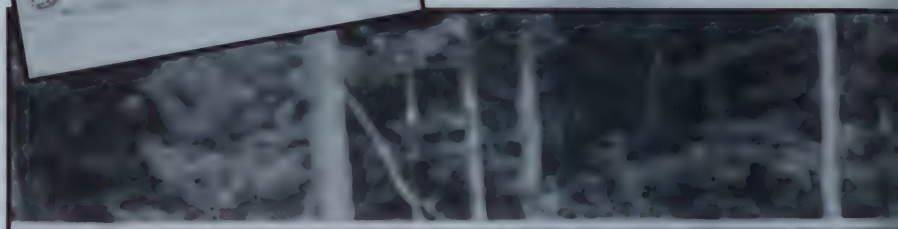
Row 1 (L to R): Sean McGrath, Jordan Richard, Jeff McKearney, Jamie Bright, Chris Moulton, Brendan Crowley
Row 2: Ryan Ferro, Noel Diaz, Josh Cortis, John Van Dolson, Mike Sprouse, Todd Adams, Kyle Banks
Row 3: Kevin Veda, Nathan Walker, Eric Shmitt, Dennis Brosnan, Sean Malvey, Chris Kennedy

← The opposing team has the ball but Tantasqua's Noel Diaz makes a quick move and makes a great steal.



JUNIOR VARSITY

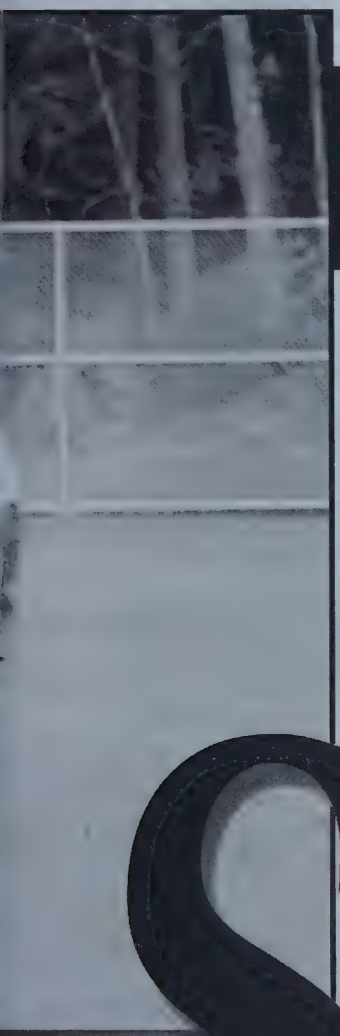
← Chris Moulton hang[illegible] behind the line awaiting the opposition. Defense team! Defense!



The Tantasqua boy's soccer team held up to expectations in 2002. They finished 8-5-5 under Coach Keith Ventimiglia to end the regular season. They qualified for the district tournament, one of the team's goals from the beginning of the season. The team was lead by senior co-captains Jeff McKearney and Jamie Bright, seniors Brendan Crowley, Chris Moulton, Jordan Richard, and Sean McGrath.

The Warriors suffered a key loss in the beginning of the season when Coach V had to attend to personal matters in South Africa. Junior varsity Coach Muska had to take over for both the varsity and junior varsity teams. The practice schedule was strenuous on both the players and the coach. But, the Warriors had a decent record headed into the middle part of the season when Coach V returned. A key game that made the Warriors season was a must win game against Shepherd Hill. The boys played their best game of the year and won a decisive victory 5-3 over the Rams. From that point in the season the boys started their push into districts with four straight victories.

Once in the district tournament the Warriors faced Blackstone Valley Tech. They held a 2-1 lead at the end of the first half. However, in the second half they let the game slip away. The Warriors were defeated 3-2, by an opponent that they should have beaten. Due to a few minor mistakes and terrible refereeing the Warriors were sent packing.

The season ended in an untimely fashion but the boys achieved their goal of making districts. Even though the boys would have liked to have gone further in the district tournament, they had a memorable and successful season. Next years the boys' varsity soccer team will be lead by a large group of seniors and under-classmen. The future of the boys' soccer team seems very bright and will look for more success in the coming years.

Soccer

Soccer, a sport where you can encounter all types of people with ability. For the warrior girls soccer team, soccer is a way of life during the summer and during the fall sports season. The team put their time, their energy and their heart 100% into the games and the practices but their record did not do them justice. Numbers said nothing of how well the team grew together during the season and accepted the new talent that filled in the team this year.

Our coach couldn't ask much more from a group of girls who worked their best as well. Playing on a sports team is very similar to having a family. You can fight and disagree, but overall everyone looks out for one another. That kind of connection is not something found just anywhere, but it could be found every time our team stepped onto the field.

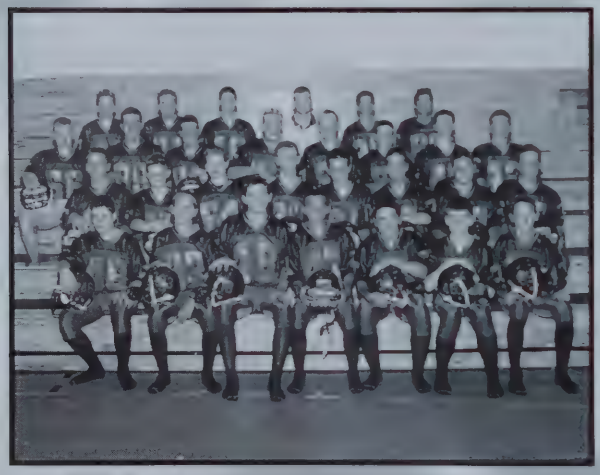
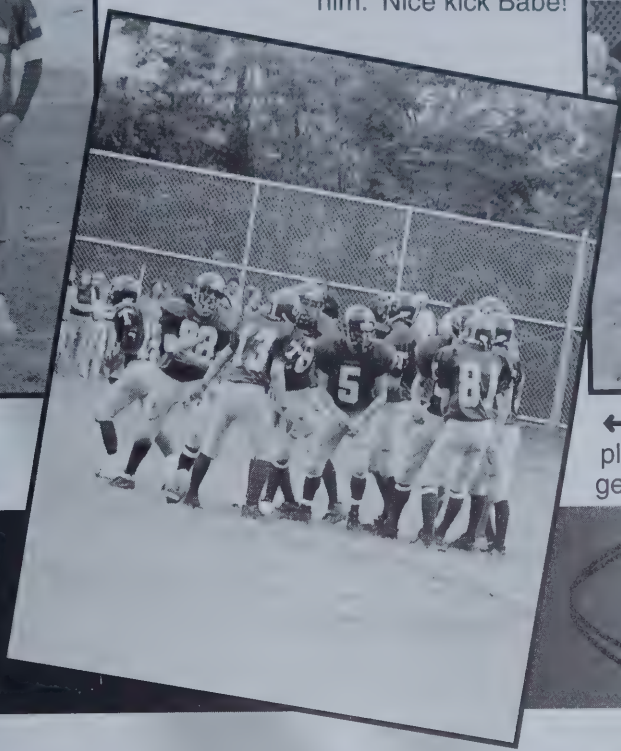
JUNIOR VARSITY



← Getting some words of advice from the coach, the warrior offense is ready to go up against the opposition with a new play.

→ Chris Predella does his best to get a punt off as the opposing team rushes toward him. Nice kick Babe!



← The warriors huddle before the next play. They need a couple more yards to get a first down. Can they do it?

The Tantasqua football team struggled this year. The boys who finished the season however, showed great heart and determination. They finished the season with several strong performances. With the seniors leading, the warriors put their best foot forward even though they faced hardship throughout the year. With more experience and athleticism they have on the team, next year should be a much better showing.

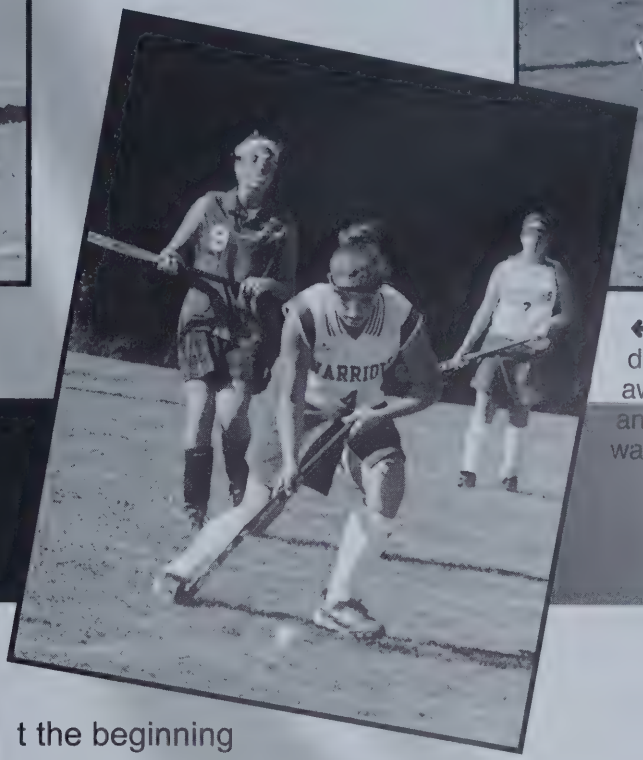
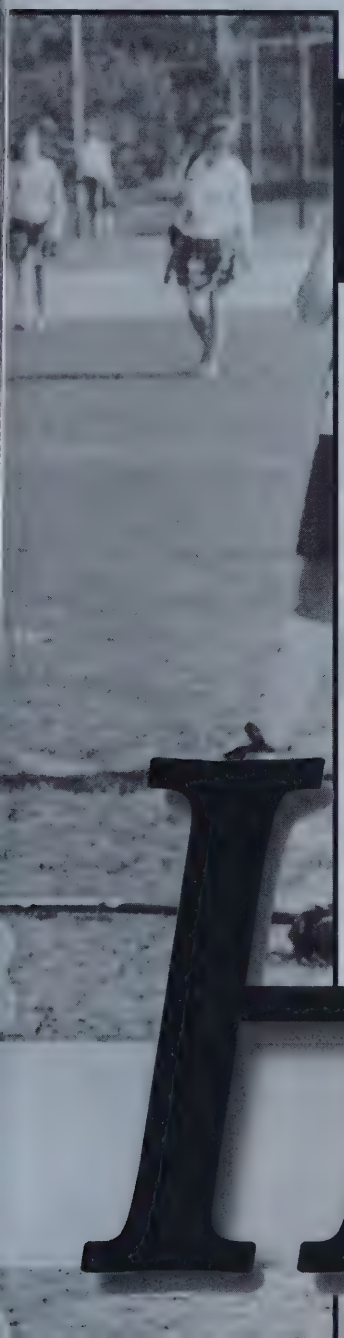
→ Alex King makes a move around a defender to get the ball to the warrior offense. Nice move!



← Amber Kelly makes a needed defensive play taking the ball away from the opposing offense and sending it back towards the warrior offense.



Hockey

At the beginning of the 2002 Field Hockey season the varsity team had 5 returning varsity players, only two of which had starting experience. However, the team as a whole worked diligently throughout the entire off-season and their performance on the field reflected this. This year's varsity team was full of hard working players and the last week of the season clearly showed everyone's character. The team won three of their last four games and made a trip to the districts where they faced the third seated Shephard Hill Rams.

GO TEAM!

GIMME A"T"

← The girls work the sideline at a Tantasqua football game cheering for the Warriors.

→ Balancing on top like that is no easy task. It takes a lot of practice and trust for those holding you up.

↓ This squad has gotten really good at pyramid building. This takes both strength and balance. Nice job girls!

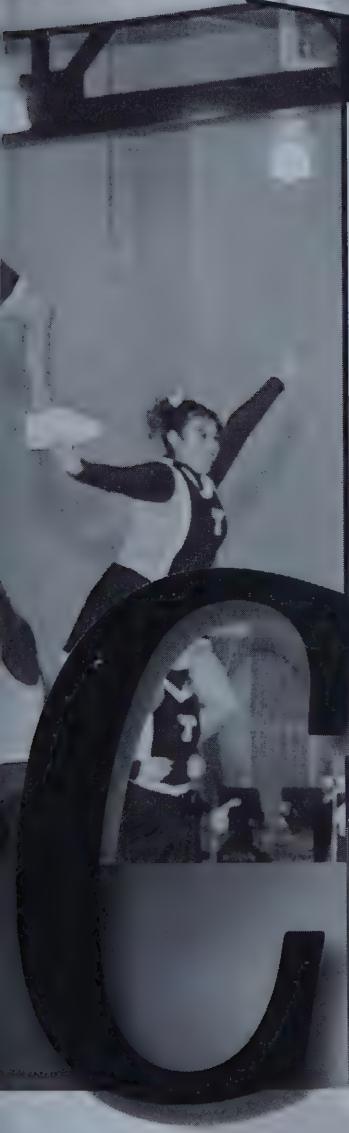
Row 1 (L to R): Kara Wassmer, Felicia Piccoli, Becky Essig, Nicole Mayfield, Leanna Babineau, Jen Lucey, Jess Grubert
Row 2: Lindsay Brecht, Kelly Lucier, Kelly Lemieux, Erica Deluca, Christina Bencivenni, Alyson Sapaugh, Shawna Tasse

JUNIOR VARSITY

← Leeanna Babineau leads the squad in another cheer. Leadership is a key role in cheerleading and Leanna does a great job!

→ Dancing, tumbling and just being in shape is a must among cheerleaders. Their talents go beyond just cheering.

→ The squad gets the crowd all riled up for the basketball game. Way to get the cheering going!



This year's seniors on the cheerleading team have been on the team since its first year of rebuild. With the help of their coach, Heidi Young, they turned an almost non-existant activity at Tantasqua into a competitive sport. The team has already had a rewarding football season in 2002. They are expecting an even better basketball season. The girls worked hard to put together a challenging routine and they will continue working in order to perfect it. The team expects they can do very well at competition. The seniors agree that many of their goals have finally been met. Over the past four years much has been learned, respect has been earned, and not only have they seen a lot of new faces lately, but also a lot of talent. There is no doubt the future holds great things for the team.

Goodbye THS Cheerleaders!
Thank You!

Good Luck,

Track

For the Tantasqua boys' Indoor Track team of 2003, losing was not an option. This season was one for the ages. When the goals were set at the beginning of the season, we knew that they were very reachable. Led by our head coach, Keith Benoit and assistant coach, Steve McGuiness, the boys' team finished the season undefeated at 5-0. They accomplished their two biggest goals which were to beat Shephard Hill for the first time ever and to win the league for the first time in school history.

For the Tantasqua girls' Indoor Track team of 2003, winning was everything and much more. The girls' had similar goals that the boys' team had going into the season, many of which were accomplished. However, the girls ended up a little short with losses to Uxbridge and Shephard Hill and finishing with a record of 3-2 but 3-1 in the SWCL west. The girls' season was far from a disappointment as they set the standard for what is to come for Warrior girls indoor track.

Both teams worked together to produce a mixture of speed, talent and a lot of depth. The school saw the largest track team ever with 82 athletes and 8 captains to lead the teams. Many school and league records were broken for both squads including the boys' 55 meter dash, the boys' 4x400 and high jump relay teams, the girls' 1000 meter dash, the girls' shotput relay. In three years as head coach, Coach Benoit took both the boys' and girls' teams where they are today. He leaves Tantasqua with a winning tradition for seasons to come.

← Jon Penney goes up for the shot along the baseline. Another 2 points for the warriors.

→ Brian Zisk leaps upward to get the ball over the defender and into the middle of the key. Kris Johnson looks on.

↓ The boy's basketball team supports its players as the varsity team is called out onto the court.

Row 1 (L to R): Greg Zini, Sean Malvey, Brian Zisk, Jon Penney, Kevin Veda, Kris Johnson, Evan Moore

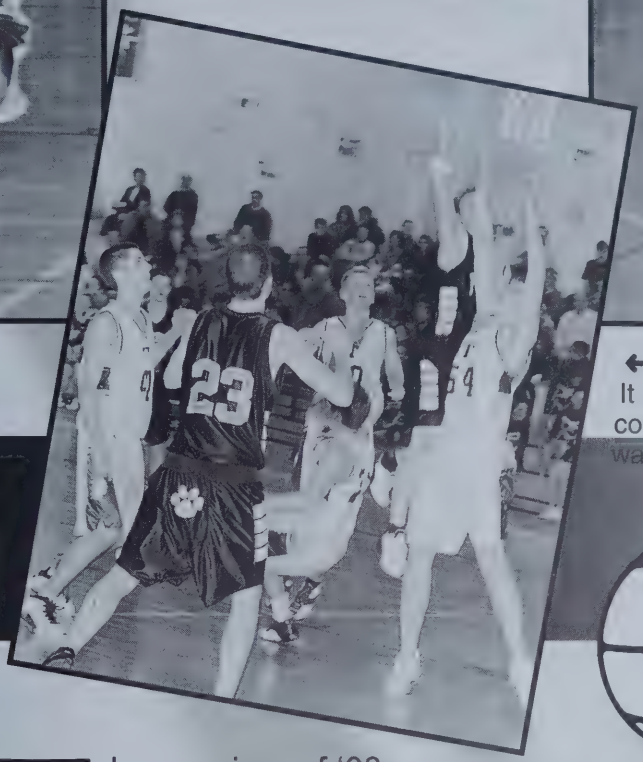
← Jeff McKearney goes in for the steal. Turnovers can both win and lose a game. The warriors are working on a win here.

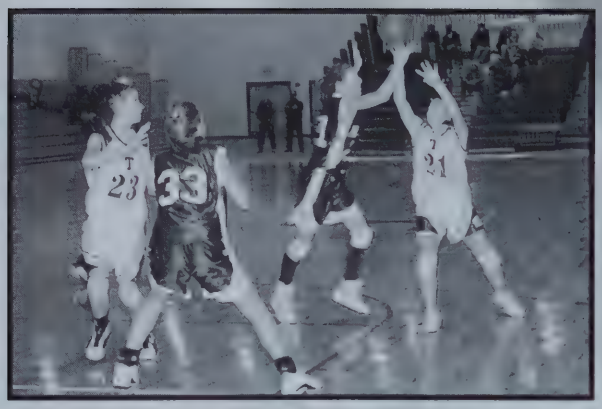
→ Evan Moore has no problem getting the ball by the defenders even though he's being double-teamed. Now that's talent!



← Tantasqua is on the defense here. It looks like we need to box-out the competition a little more. Rebound warriors - Rebound!

Basketball

The warriors of '03 had a respectable season. After graduating six seniors from last season, the team had only three this year; Evan Moore, Jeff McKearney and James Arnold. Each helped the team greatly with their own strengths on the court. The bulk of the roster was composed of juniors; Nate Walker, Kris Johnson, Greg Zini, Brian Zisk, Jon Penney, and Erik Schmitt. The final three members of the team, Kevin Veda, Tommy Dowling and Sean Malvey were sophomores. Both the junior and sophomore classes showed immense talent and skill and this young team promises great seasons to come.



← Joanna Donato puts the ball in the air and through the arms of the opposing team as she passes it to Chrissie Gilman.

→ Krystin Gavin goes up over the defenders for a shot. It's another 2 points for the Warriors.

Row 1 (L to R): Joanna Donato, Rachel Denning, Alise Wales, Amanda Hawk, Sara Baillargeon, Jill Boone, Lissy Van Doison
Row 2: Katie Butler, Andrea Lafleche, Chrissie Gilman, Krystin Gavin, Kim Wronski, Sarah King, Danielle Goudreau, Coach Goyette

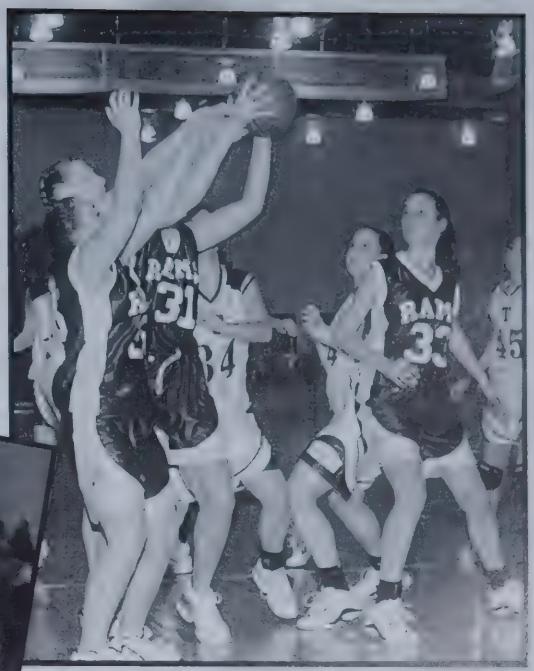
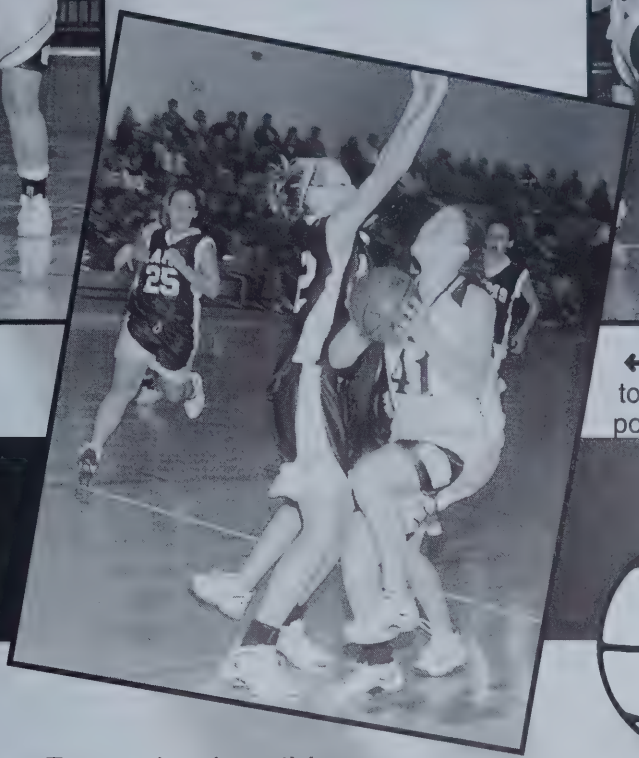
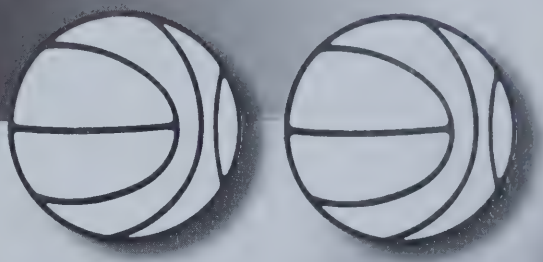
← Being pressed by the opposing team, Amanda Hawk looks down-court to find an open teammate to throw the ball to.

→ In the midst of the other team, Sarah King, Andrea Lafleche and Lissy Van Dolson work to get the ball under control.

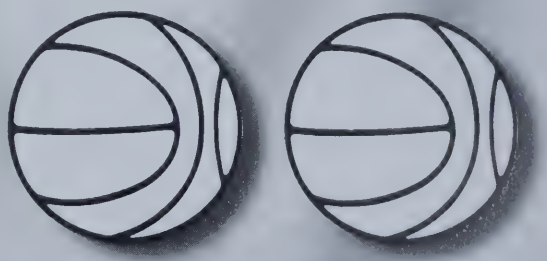




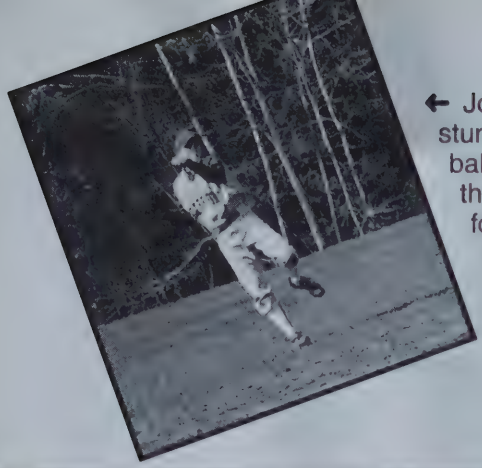
← Katie Butler goes around a defender to put the ball in the hoop. Another 2 points!



Coming into this season, the girls' varsity basketball team had quite a reputation to uphold seeing that last year's team went to the semifinals in districts at WPI. The girls' team is made up of fifteen stars. There isn't any one player who runs the show because our work as a team is outstanding. Although the girls play in a very competitive SWCL West league, they are hoping to capture the SWCL championship title and play at WPI for the second year in a row. With a little determination and a lot of hard work, I know they can do it. Go Warriors!



Basketball



← John Van Dolson makes a stunning catch and throws the ball in to second base catching the runner before he got there for a game winning double play.

→ Babe Predella throws the ball in after a little practice in the outfield. Nice form Babe!

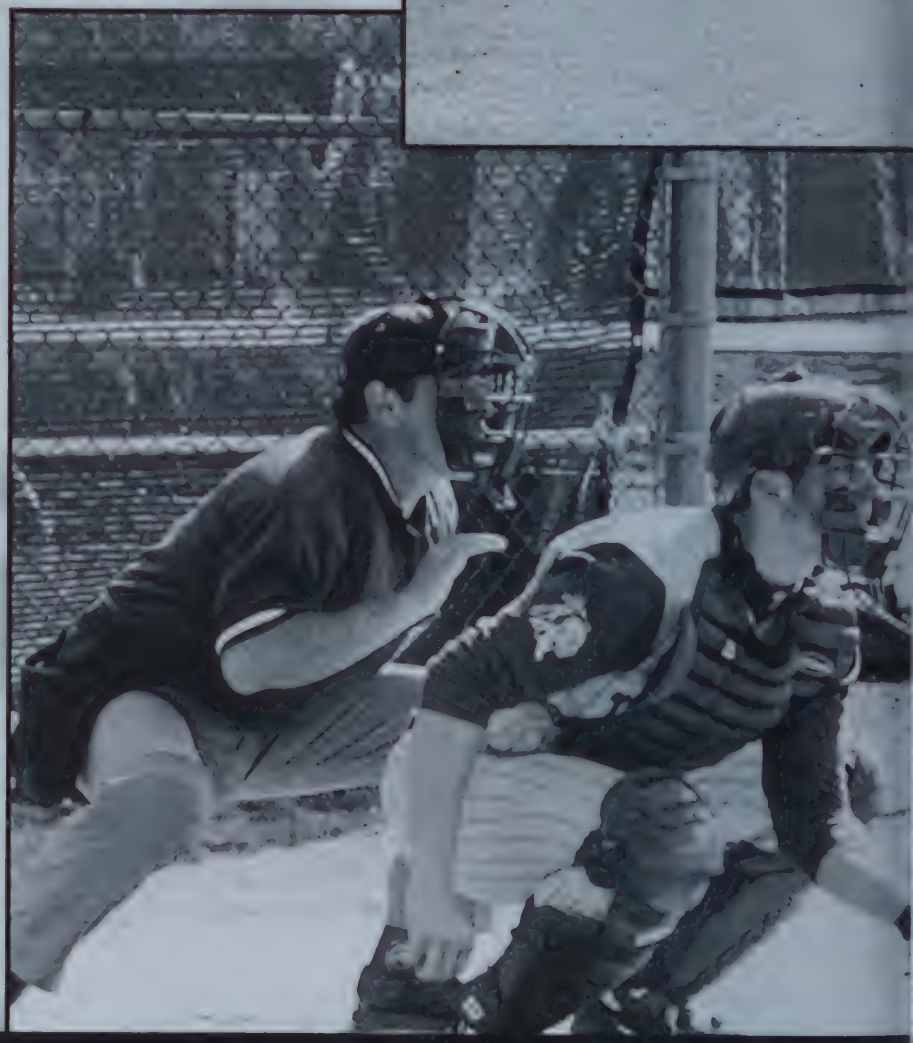
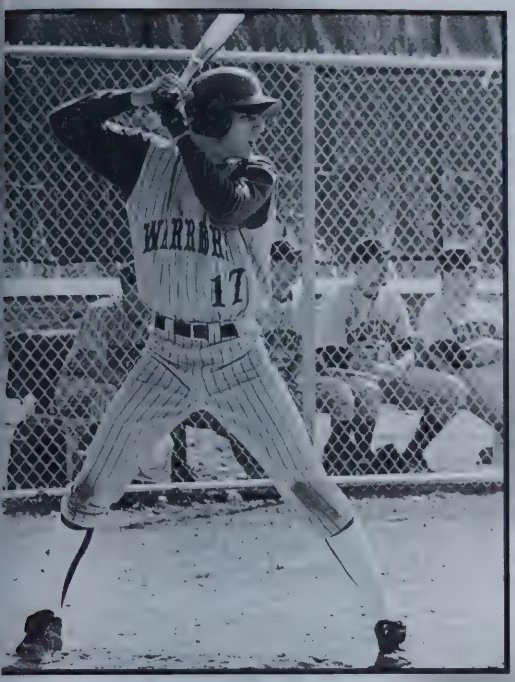
Row 1 (L to R): Mike Lawrence, Nick Faucher, Jeff DiGeronimo, Bart Liro, Coach Muska
Row 2: Bruce Walker, ML Benjamin, Nick Ferro, Coach Farrel
Row 3: Babe Predella, Andrew Cronin, John Vandolson, Greg Zini, Dwight Dion

↓ Bart Liro gives the sign to the pitcher and prepares to catch the pitch. The upmire behind him is in position to make the call.

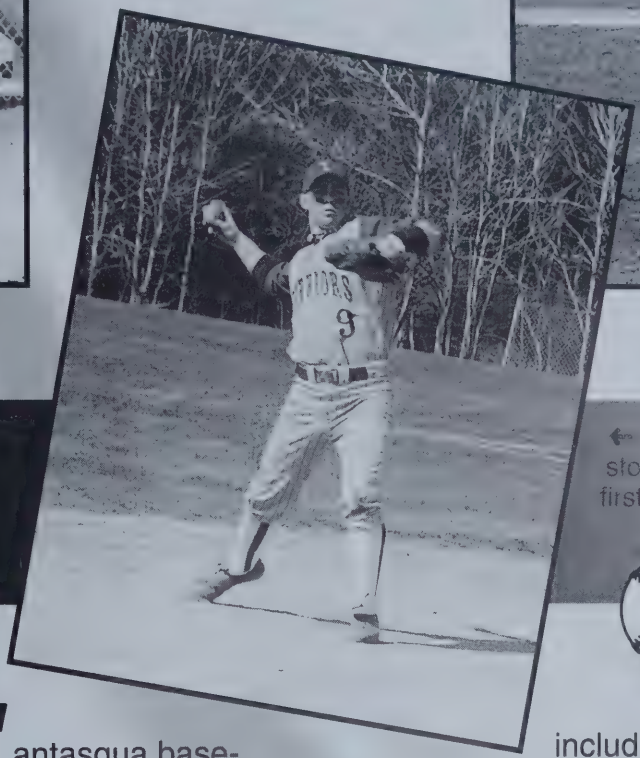


JUNIOR VARSITY



← Jeff DiGeronimo readies himself for the pitch. He looks like Nomar Garciaparra - I wonder if he hits like him too...

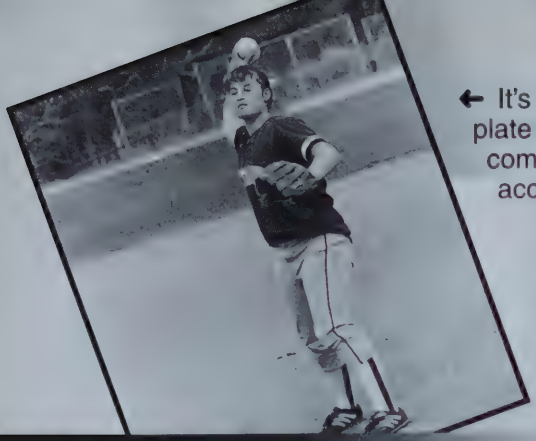
→ Coach Farrell, dressed in uniform could be mistaken for one of the players. Is he practicing his swing or is this his stress reliever?



← Nick Ferro makes a fabulous stop and winds up for his throw to first base.

Baseball

Tantasqua baseball has made some great strides forward in the last several years under the guidance of coach Farrell and coach Pratt. Each and every year the team has shown improvement and the fan base has grown accordingly. This year, the plan is no different. With only a few seniors returning, this team promises to be young and full of energy. A full schedule is slatted for the spring season, including all the usual suspects: Northbridge, Bartlett, Quaboag and the dreaded Southbridge. With continued hard work and determination, Tantasqua baseball should once again be successful and compete in the Southern Worcester County League. Go Warriors!



← It's a squeeze play at the plate and Danielle Goudreau comes through with an accurate throw in for the out.

→ Joanna Donato puts on an awsome display as she pitches another strike down the middle. The expression on her face shows her strength and determination to defeat the batter.

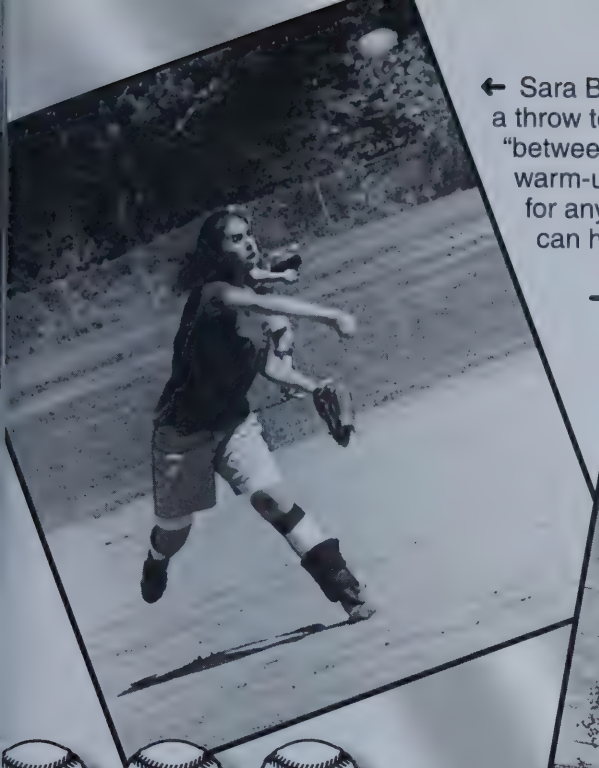
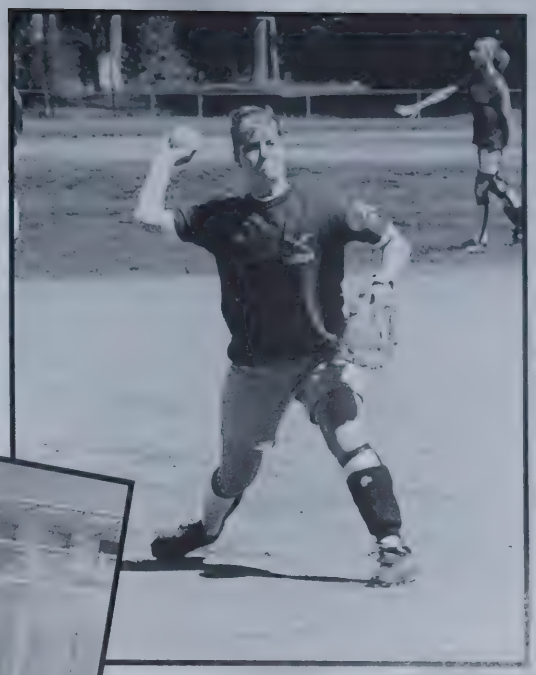
Row 1 (L to R): Sarah Curtin, Becky Fleury, Dee Muller, Kim Letendre
Row 2: Megan Boone, Sara Baillargeon, Amanda Hawk, Den Caron, Alise Wales
Row 3: Stevi Gelinas, Jess McNutt, Joanna Donato, Marlie Liro, Coach Lagetstrom

↓ As seen here, team unity is extremely important to these ladies. Amanda Hawk makes her way down the line of teamates as they all pass along words of encouragement and support. Way to be a team girls!

JUNIOR VARSITY



← Sara Baillargeon makes a throw to first base during "between-inning practice." This warm-up will get the girls ready for anything the opposing team can hit to them.

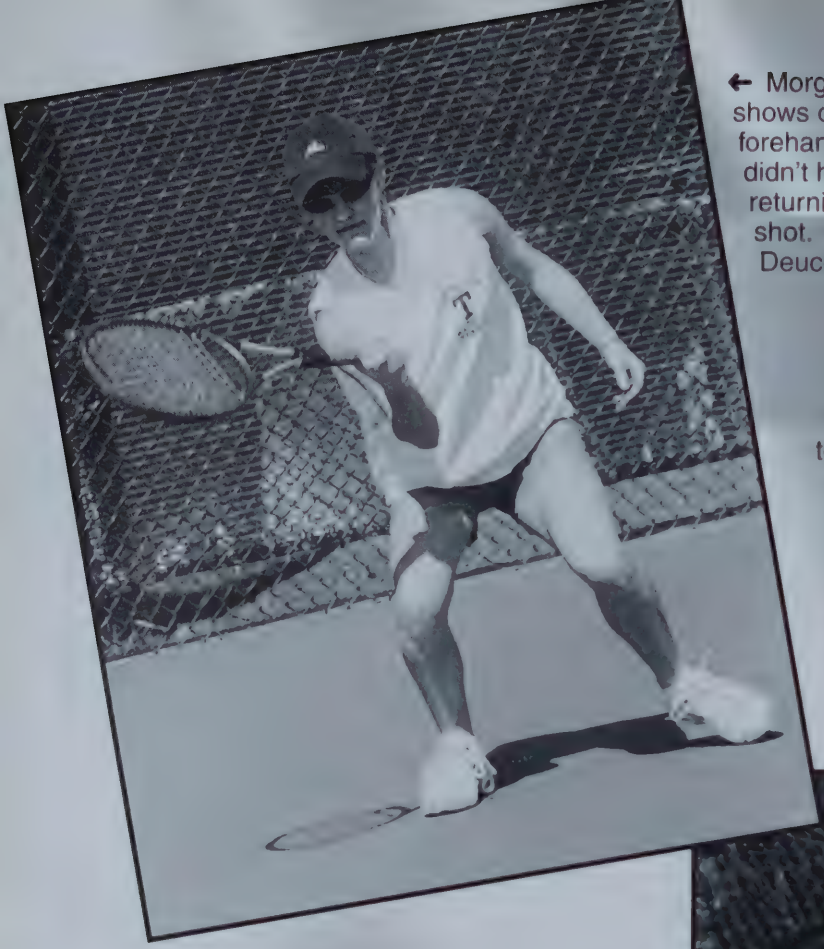


→ Den Caron makes the throw look effortless. Here she demonstrates how to be quick and accurate when throwing the ball to first base.

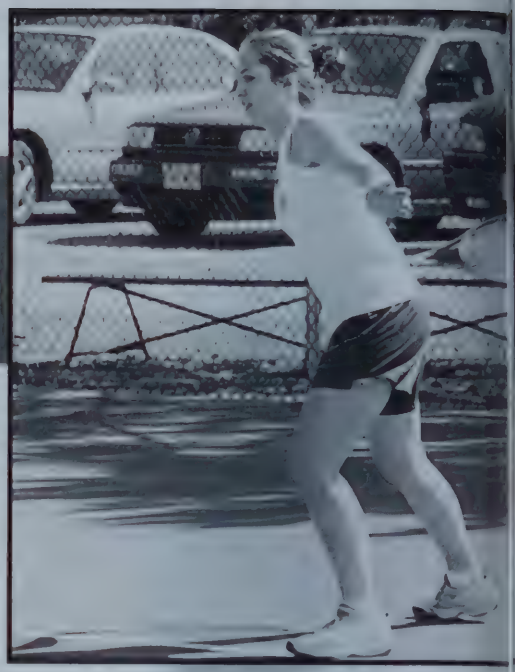
← Alise Wales positions herself under a fly ball for the catch. With speed and accuracy, nothing can get by these girls.

Softball

The softball season of 2002 was a unifying year. Being forced to transport ourselves to Holland to play because of the ongoing school construction pushed us to become closer than ever. The girls' varsity softball team finished the season witha a 9-11 record. We missed districts by the last game but that just raises the stakes for the upcoming season. Every year we strive to do better than the last one. Our hopes for the upcoming season are focused on districts. With a new school, a new field and a new outlook, our team is going to be stronger than ever. Though we lost some talent with the graduation of the seniors, the upcoming team is not going to be lacking. We're looking for a strong showing from the new seniors and juniors and will continue to push the sophomores and freshmen as they ready for themselves for the varsity team.



← Morgan Reynolds shows off her fierce forehand. Her opponent didn't have a chance at returning this screaming shot. It's tied again at Deuce!



→ Sarah Glover readies herself to return the serve. It looks like it's going to be a tough shot to return.

↓ Kimmy Predella takes her position behind the net as she awaits the serve from the opposing team.

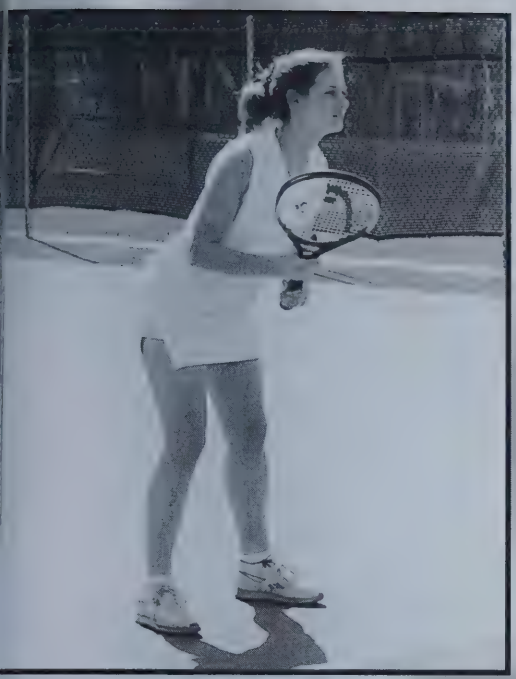
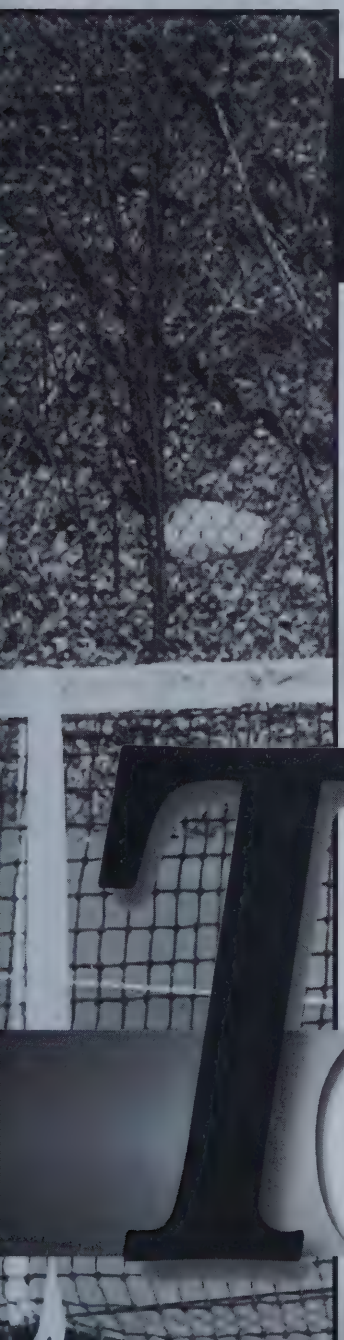
Row 1 (L to R): Carrie Wieland, Crissy Wieland, Sarah Helbig, Becca Adams, Laura Zajac
Row 2: Coach Parker, Caroline Anessi, Sarah Glover, Morgan Reynolds, Kerry Neal, Kacey Light, Kaylin Blair
Row 3: Alysa Rogowski, Kim Predella, Kim Wronski, Megan Conners, Kim Spencer, Alex King



← Rebecca Montross waits anxiously for the serve from her opponent. With the score at 40 - Love, she needs this point to clench the match.

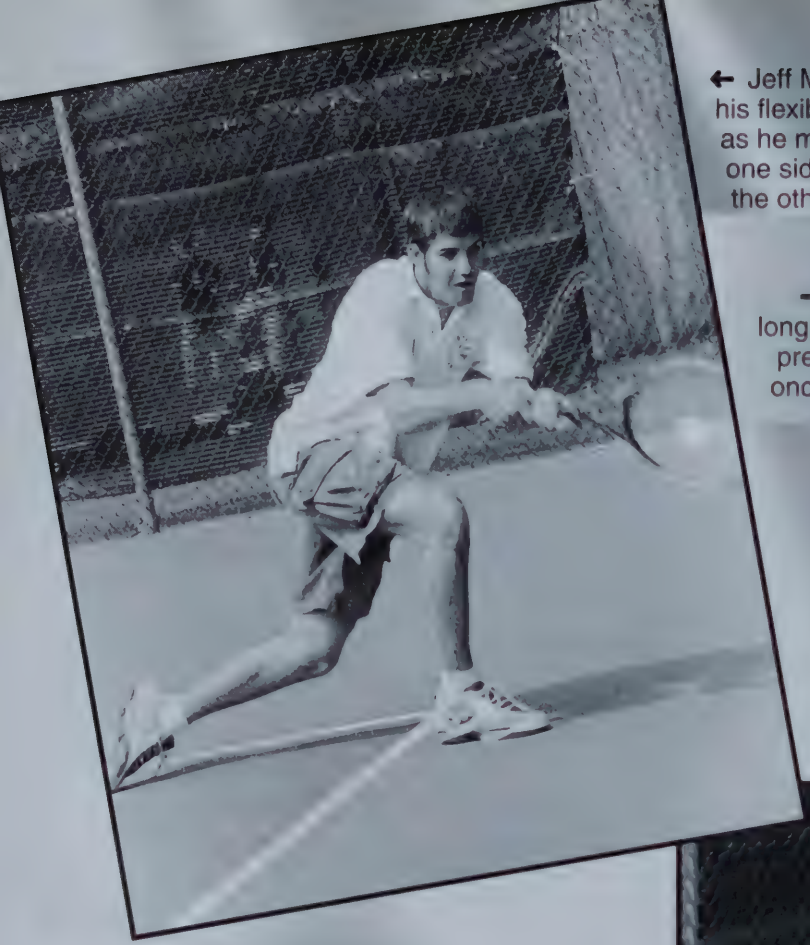
→ Coach Parker hits practice balls to the girls to give them some work on their backhands. Nice form Parker!

← It's break point and Rebecca Adams is looking for another Ace to wrap up the match.



Tennis

The girls' tennis team had a memorable season last year not only due to the fact that our record was 19-2 but also because our team unity was so strong. Our team moto was "Good Performance will lead to Success." We battled through our conference, not giving up a single match. We then won our district finals against our rivals - Southbridge. For the first time in our school history, we concluded our season with the state finals. Even though we fell short in the state finals, our performance and spirit levels were high. Our success is the result of every single one of our starters and without our coach, Mr. Parker, we would never have been nearly as successful. This year we expect to be very competitive in all aspects, but it will be difficult to fill the gap of our 4 graduated seniors. Tennis seems to some, an individual sport, but our team has the makup that championships are made when seven play as one.



← Jeff McKearney shows his flexibility and strength as he makes his way from one side of the court to the other. Nice save Jeff!

→ In the middle of a long volley, Todd Adams prepares to attack the oncoming ball with one of his unstoppable backhands.

↓ Neil Drexhage makes a tremendous save and surpasses his opponent 40-30. One more point to go for the match.

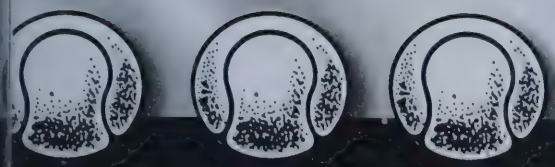
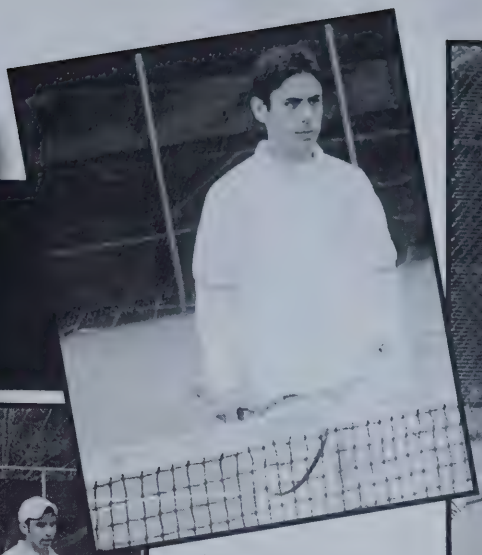
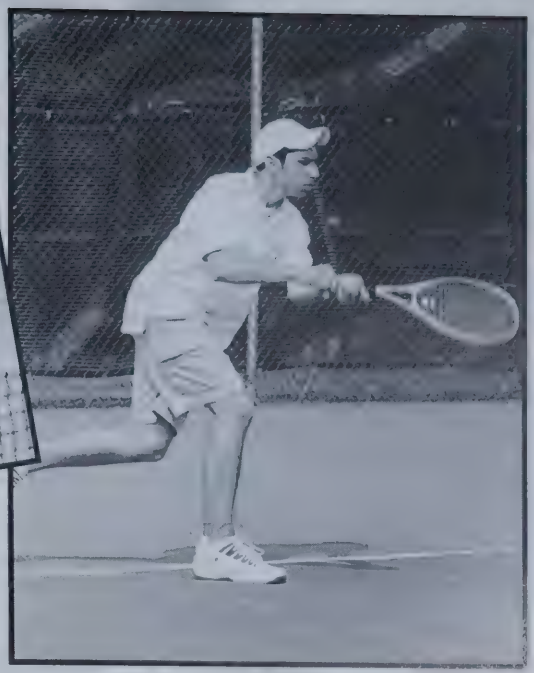
Row 1 (L to R): Jimi Mulvehill, Nate Lacasse, Neal Casaubon
Row 2: Jeff McKearney, Neil Drexhage, Michael Hughes, Andrew Kent
Row 3: Mr. Poirier, Alex Riddle, Eric Shmitt, John Jackson, Brian Avery
Row 4: Coach Lucas, Brian Barnes, Todd Adams



The boys line up for a pre-match pep talk rom coach Lucas. With a lineup like this, 's a wonder the opposing teams aren't too ntimidated to play.



↑ Neal Casaubon gives his opponent "the stare." He is SO intimidating!



↑ Michael Hughes stretches out for a forehand return. With that two-handed swing, he can put a serious spin on the ball that is almost impossible for his opponent to handle.

Under the excellent supervision of coaches Mike Lucas and Tighe "Hulk Hogan" Poirier, the boys' tennis team cruised to an 18 - 4 season. They went out and "played hard," winning their eigth consecutive SWCL title. The superior leadership of Jimi "The Brow" Mulvehill and Nate "Fabio" Lacasse will be severely missed this season. Despite the setbacks, the remaining warriors hope to continue their winning ways and look good in the process.

Row 4: Joy Richard, Jamie McKearney, Kristyn Gavin, Liz VanDolsen, Shannon Cassuci, Laura Head, Katie Butler, Amanda Johnson, Corri Cooke, Amy Willard

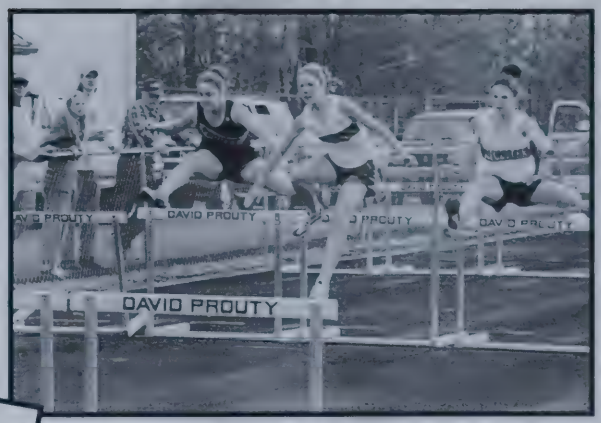
↑ Emma Rearick is in motion to throw the javelin. This may look easy but it really isn't. Members of the opposing teams look on.

↓ Evan Moore throws the discus at this meet. Look at the concentration on his face. You can see here just what kind of strain is put on the body by throwing this.

Spring

← Mike Sprouse soars through the air as he tries to make his mark in the long jump. His distance is going to be tough to beat.

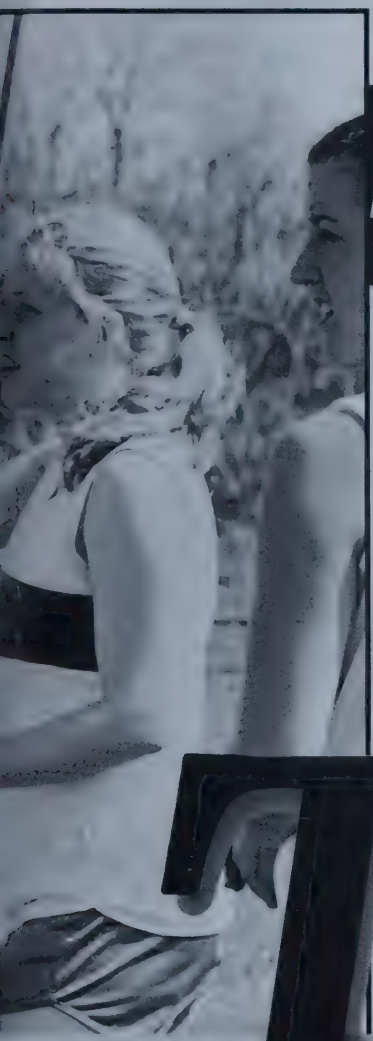
↓ Amy Willard takes her best shot at throwing the shot put. Tantasqua has a strong showing in this event.



↑ Megan Morrisey leads the pack in the hurdles. Keep it up Megan... you can do it!

↓ Mallori Morrison, Maureen Looney, Kate Cessna and Emma Rearick look on as the opposition throws the javelin. What's the distance to beat?

↓ Eric Schonholz leaps over a hurdle at a David Prouty meet. Notice he's ahead of the opposition. Way to go Eric!



Track

Like most teams in the 2001-2002 athletic season every outdoor game or meet was away. It is tough to be on the road constantly, but the outdoor girls and boys track and field teams made the best of it. With the superior coaching of Coach Benoit and Coach Duane, the teams had an amazing season.

The efforts and will power of both teams proved that the Tantasqua warriors were a team to watch out for. The meets were long, sometimes cold, and sometimes wet, but they were always successful no matter the outcome. The 'Home' advantage means absolutely nothing to these warriors. With outstanding seasons coming from the runners, jumpers and throwers, the track teams were a tough act to defeat at the meets. Many individual records were made and personal bests were beaten making this season one to remember for many. Both the girls and boys teams had individuals who stood out and made individual accomplishments but in the long run, they all worked for the same thing... the good of the team and it is this type of team unity that the next track team will bring forth into a new season.

↓ Having finished the race first, Kimmie Predella watches as the other swimmers finish.

↓ Team members cheer on as the swimmers make their way into the last lap. Go THS!

↓ Swimming the breast stroke is one of the toughest races to swim.

Swimming

In Tantasqua's first year of swimming and diving, the team is not expected to come out in first place, but rather to gain experience in this winter sport which is new to the school. The team only had five meets this year, but practiced very hard every day after school. Dedicated swimmers know that the use of the weight room is necessary for optimum performance in the water. The team went into the weight room every Tuesday and Thursday while the dive team occupied the pool. The swim team has learned many new skills and hopes to carry them on and into next year's season.

To my best friend,

Thank you for:
Teaching me to take one day at a time,
Taking care of me when I'm sick,
Someone to laugh and cry with and to stand by my side on good days and bad.
You taught me to accept people for themselves no matter how different they are. My heart is filled with so much pride and love, but on those days that you debate with me to prove your point, I would have loved putting you in a box (with air holes of course) and mailed you on a slow boat to China...
But of course I would have missed you.

Thank you for loving me for who I am.
Mom

To the love of my life,

These years with you are the best I've ever known. I am truly looking forward to our life together, wherever that may lead us. I fell in love with you that one faithful night, and ever since then I fall deeper and deeper in love with you each growing day. Through our ups and downs, one thing never changes, and that's my love for you. We can overcome anything and everything, and I will never let us break apart.
All I want in life is you, the rest will fall into place. My heart is yours and will always be. Right now, I know we don't see enough of each other, but hopefully by the time you read this, we are together, really together at last. I love you Shyla Dawn with all my heart and all my soul. You are my life.

Yours forever,
Scott

To RDL,

You've always been original, your own person, and such a "fashion connoisseur"! We ARE proud of you, and hope that you find what you're looking for.

We wish you love, health & happiness forever!

Mom, Dad, & Jamie

Congratulations to Ryan L., Ashley, Corey, Jen, Jay, Jacob, Ryan K., Doug, Tim & the Class of 2003, from the gang at Slim's Sewer Service.

Stephanie,

I've often wondered how 2 sisters can be so much alike and yet so different too. Whatever the reason, in ways that matter most, we've been close. I hope you know how very proud I am to be your sister. I wouldn't have it any other way. Way to go sis! We love ya, Jennifer.

And to my cousin Jessica, you made it! We are so proud of you.

Always keep your dreams alive. We are so proud of you!
Love, Mom, Dad, Jamie & Kimberly

Dearest Megan,

Our only prayer is that you remain a woman of integrity and that you carry the happy, caring child you are inside of you for the rest of your life. May the Lord bless your decisions and your future.

You are deeply loved,
Dad, Mom, Jillian & Alicia

Candice,

Anyone can take the easy path through life, but it takes a strong and talented person to make your own path. When life puts obstacles in your way, you have the strength to remove them, and the talent to succeed.

May you be happy with all that you are,
All that you can be,
And all that you will become!

CONGRATULATIONS!!!
All our love,
Mom and Dad

Mallori,

Mere words cannot adequately express all that is in our hearts as you celebrate your graduation from high school.

So we'll have to settle for the slightly over-used, yet ever so deeply felt:

We are so very proud of you!

We love you more than you know!

We wish you all the good things life has to offer!

Congratulations!!

With Love,
Mom, Dad, and Drew

TWELVE WAYS TO KEEP SMILING!

Hold on to your dreams, and never let them go
Show the rest of the world how wonderful you are!
Give circumstances a chance,
and give others the benefit of the doubt
Wish on a star that shines in your sky
Take on your problems one by one
Rely on all the strength you have inside
Let loose of the sparkle and spirit
Stay in touch with those who touch your life with love
Look at that bright side and don't let adversity keep you from winning
Be yourself, because you are filled with special qualities that have brought you this far,
and that will see you through
Keep your spirits up
Make your heart happy,
and let it reflect on everything you do!
-Douglas Pagels

ALLISON,
WE ARE SO PROUD OF YOU AND ALL THAT YOU ARE!
LOVE ALWAYS,
MOM & MACKENZIE

Amy

We've been so very blesed to have you as our daughter. We've watched you grow and mature into the kind, happy, beautiful person you are today and we couldn't be more proud.

Whatever path life takes you down, we know you'll do great because of your amazing ability to always see the "best" in everything. We love you!!

Mom, Dad & Kali

Congratulations Jay,

We are so lucky to be blessed with a son as wonderful and talented as you. You have filled our lives with love, joy and precious moments. It seems like just the other day you were our little baby boy. Now you're our handsome young man. You have achieved so much already in life. We know you can do anything you want and be successful at it. (that's just you) You have always been a leader, never afraid to go for what you want in life. That's what makes you so special.

Remember we all love you very much and whatever you choose to do in life, your whole family will be there to support you.

Love,
Dad, Mom, Kara, Tiffany & Mikey

P.S. I love you more – I beat you to it quick. Mom

Jeff,

The time has passed much too quickly as we've watched you grow from a funny, active little boy into a strong, independent, and quietly determined young man. You have given us so many wonderful memories and have filled our hearts with tremendous pride in all of your accomplishments. Wherever the future takes you remember we will always be here for you with open arms and hearts. We are so proud of you.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Jeff,

I can't believe our childhood together has already come to an end. I cannot begin to tell you how much fun I've had being your sister over the past 16 yrs. You have always been the one to make me laugh at something that isn't even funny. You've always been the one who has motivated me to do well. I look up to you for everything and I'm so proud to be your sister. I will never forget all the memories we've had. We've been through so much together and I think we've grown very close. Now, you are not only my brother, but you are my best friend. I'm going to miss you when you leave for college. I wish you the best of luck in the future. I hope everything works out well for you. You deserve it. I love you Jeff.

Your one and only sister,
Jamie

Jeff,

For 14 years I've looked up to you and I always will. I don't think you ever knew how much. You pushed yourself to the limit in sports and school but still kept your great sense of humor. I'll miss you next year. May the good times for us never end.

Love,
Kevin

For Emily French:

"My life goes on in endless song
Above earth's lamenation.
I hear the real, though far-off hymn
That hails the new creation.

Through all the tumult and the strife
I hear that music ringing.
It sounds an echo in my soul -
How can I keep from singing?

Ashleigh,
I've said your name so many times, from saying it with tears in my eyes, to screaming it, I love you so much. Thank you for everything you have taught me, for everything you have shared with me, for every single moment we've had together. Remember our promise, we'll walk side by side, till the new day comes, we'll go on, growing closer through the years, moving on through the good times and tears, we'll go on... You are not only my sister, but my best friend. I could not ask for more. You are something that I cherish. You are someone that I am so glad to be in my life. I will miss you so much. 2003 Yearbook Staff

Editor - in - Chief
Beth Gionfriddo

This year I wanted to make the yearbook fit the new school. I tried to maintain what it means to be a warrior within this book, but I also wanted to put a new twist on it. Being the first yearbook of the new building, I wanted to make it memorable for everyone who picks it up. A lot of new ideas were put into this book, ideas of what is really important to each Tanatsqua student.

A tremendous amount of work went into making this book, I want to say thank you to everyone who contributed, and especially to Ms. Wicker who spent so much time working on and putting together an amazing yearbook. Thank you to the people who spent extra time and effort on this book. Your work is very much appreciated.

This book marks an end for many seniors, but it is also marks the begining of a brand new building for Tantasqua. I hope this book will help everyone to look back on this year as a fun, yet at times chaotic year. I hope you all enjoy it!
